Pearl Harbor Day Of Infamy Noted Dec. 7

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — A nation still mourning the death of its president pauses Saturday to remember another day of infamy — the bombing of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

A gleaming white monument stands above the sunken battleship Arizona, the tomb for 1,102 men. Above the vessel an American flag flies at half mast.

There hasn't been much change since a year ago. A stillness descends over the harbor every Dec. 7. Even the ships—plying back and forth — seem muffled and quiet, a contrast indeed to the hell that broke loose at 7:55 a.m. on this day 22 years ago.

On this Dec. 7, one thing is different from all anniversary days since the end of World War II.

It is the flag—at half mast, the first time this Pearl Harbor Day. The hundreds of people who cross the harbor to pay a brief tribute and drop a garland of flowers on the water will remember in their prayers one more young, dead American.

It is for him—a World War II Navy lieutenant who fought in the Pacific—that the flag flies low.

The man is John Fitzgerald Kennedy, victim of an assassin's bullet two weeks ago.

The Arizona — symbol of the 1941 Japanese bombing—is the only one of nine battleships attacked still in commission.

She is considered commissioned because the crew is still aboard. That is why the flag flies above the sunken vessel.

The Navy does not hold official ceremonies to mark Pearl Harbor Day. But to the men and women on the naval base, and to those on ships in port, Dec. 7 retains its deep significance. Many travel to the memorial independently to pay tribute to the 2,300 sailors, soldiers, Marines and civilians who died in a few nightmare hours.

Batch Of Bills Ready For Vote In Lansing

THE BIPARTISAN presidential commission named to investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy meets for the first time in the National Archives building in Washington. Action Sought By Democrats On ADC-U Law

LANSING (AP)—Moving with unaccustomed speed, lawmakers today passed the first bills designed to implement Michigan's new Constitution.

Five bills won final House approval and the Senate forwarded five more for final Senate passage before adjourning for the weekend.

The House bills passed all deal with election law changes. Most of the Senate bills concern the state court system.

The legislature meets again Monday night.

House Democrats introduced a bill to qualify Michigan for federal funds for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed. But Gov. George Romney has refused to open the special session to consideration of ADC-U.

Minority Leader Rep. Joseph Kowalski told Gov. George Romney in a letter endorsed by the House Democratic Caucus that Michigan is losing thousands of dollars daily in federal ADC-U funds.

Kowalski noted that Romney already had opened the call of the constitutional implementation session to include capitol building bills. But he said Democrats would not use the issue as a club or threat.

"Would not inclusion of legislation to provide for ADC-U be no less appropriate?" Kowalski asked. Federal authorities have withheld funds because they say Michigan's present ADC-U law is too restrictive.

Senate committees released six bills Thursday, mostly dealing with the state's court system.

Powers Specified

One of these would allow a verdict to be established by 10 of 12 jurors in civil cases, rather than only by unanimity.

Also released from committee was the bill specifying the powers of the Civil Rights Commission. The appropriation for the commission is in another committee, which has not yet scheduled a hearing on it.

Also released was a bill with a chain of succession to the governor's office in case the chief executive dies, is convicted of impeachment, resigns or is otherwise removed.

Present law does not go beyond saying that the lieutenant governor takes over for the governor in such case. The new bill lists next the secretary of state, attorney general, senate president and house speaker, respectively.

House Republican and Democratic leaders agreed to seek a vote today on three bills making changes in election laws.

In Thursday's session, some 22 bill were advanced to third reading, putting them in position for a vote.

Several others — including the controversial bill which would hold county officials in office an extra two years — were held back for debate and action later.

Soviets Trying To End Quarrel With Red China

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party today renewed its plea to Red China to cease open polemics and try to settle Soviet - Chinese differences in private talks.

The party organ Pravda complained in a special editorial that the bitter quarrel "has gone too far and in many instances overstepped the standards of relations between fraternal parties."

"Of course the differences within the Communist movement are serious..." the newspaper said. "But one should not dramatize the situation either, or regard it as irreparable."

Pravda said the Soviet party was continuing to work toward a settlement of the Moscow-Peking dispute "and is undertaking steps of vast importance for this."

The editorial repeated Soviet proposals to meet privately to discuss the quarrel and prepare the ground for a world meeting of Communist parties.

Pravda clearly indicated the warring Communist giants had made no progress in recent months toward resumption of the bilateral talks held here last summer.

The party voice also hinted the Russians are prepared for a long period of waiting, confident that time will wear down the Chinese opposition.

Johnson Urges Patience In U.S. Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson in outlining his foreign policy philosophy says the United States must be strong, just, temperate and patient.

Johnson made the statement twice Thursday at separate closed meetings with government officials White House sources later gave newsmen the gist of his remarks.

The President, who has been having as many as 10 announced appointments a day, slackened his public pace today and announced only three.

Scheduled to see the President were Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency and Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

The third appointment was ceremonial—presentation of the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the highest civilian honor for peacetime service, to 28 men and women distinguished in public and cultural affairs. Two other medal winners said they could not be present at the ceremony in the state dining room. Another, former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, died Thursday.

President John F. Kennedy conceived the idea of making annual presentations of the medal to distinguished Americans.

Johnson outlined his view of the appropriate American posture in foreign affairs at a one-hour meeting of the National Security Council—the first in his administration—and later expanded on the subject in a talk before 800 top officials at the State Department.

He told the State Department officials that an increased sense of hope had been developing during the final months of Kennedy's life—partly because of what Johnson called a balance of power shift in favor of the United States.

"I have not become President to give away this advantage," he said.

Johnson said another basis for developing hope reflected what he termed advances in working with the Soviet Union.

Describing the State Department as the central force in framing and executing foreign policy, Johnson said he would look to the department for "initiative in proposal, energy in action, frankness in advice."

Court Settles Pharmacy Case

LANSING (AP) — Voicing strong complaints about "political intrusion" in its own affairs, the Michigan Supreme Court has ordered the issuance of a state pharmacy license to the SupeRx discount Drug company.

The court's 5-3 decision Thursday ended a 15-month controversy which once saw Gov. George Romney attempt unsuccessfully to fire the State Pharmacy Board director.

It ordered a writ instructing the drug board to issue a license to SupeRx, a subsidiary of the Kroger grocery chain, and cleared the way for the firm's stores in several cities to open.

SupeRx has been operating one store in Battle Creek pending outcome of the suit, which was launched after the drug Board denied a license to the firm on Sept. 26, 1962.

Three members of the court dissented from the majority but nevertheless were critical of the board for having failed to give the SupeRx firm its license.

Justice Eugene Black termed the action a "summary denial" in which the company was not given fair or due process.

Noting that it came after a meeting in which some 600 independent druggists noisily and vehemently objected to the SupeRx application, Black said the decision was "tainted by pure hearsay and the recorded hoorahs of a not-too-well-controlled public gathering."

He charged, however, that Romney and Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency had made a "political intrusion" by getting involved in a controversy over Romney's effort to fire pharmacy board Director David Moss, a Democratic appointee.

Socialist Labor Party Seeking Place On Ballot

LANSING (AP) — The Socialist Labor Party has become the second minor party to seek a spot on the 1964 Michigan election ballot.

The party has filed petitions with 19,928 signatures. A state elections division spokesman said the group "appeared to have a good cushion" of signatures since the minimum requirement is 14,896.

The Socialist Workers Party previously filed for a place on the ballot.

Kennedys Move To Georgetown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy leaves the White House today in sorrow and bereavement—two weeks, almost to the hour, after her husband was slain in Dallas.

Mrs. Kennedy is taking her children from a goldfish bowl existence to the quiet life of a borrowed home on N Street in Georgetown.

She and her husband lived in the area before Sen. John F. Kennedy was elected president in 1960.

Caroline Kennedy, 6, will be coming back every day for a while to attend first grade classes at the White House school, which Mrs. Kennedy founded to give her children privacy and the company of other children their age.

John Jr., 3, will have to find his play pals elsewhere now. And there will be no more visits to the big oval office where his father managed to find time for him despite the awesome burdens of the presidency.

Their new house, lent to them by Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, is a temporary residence for the three. Mrs. Kennedy will look for a permanent home in Washington.

Mystery Mail Attacks School Driver Training

LANSING (AP) — A flood of mystery mail blasting Michigan's public school driver education program has been pouring into the mailboxes of legislators.

It arrives in envelopes which have no return addresses and may have postmarks from Michigan, Connecticut or Arizona. Some of it, hand-carried, has been left in lawmakers' hotels.

"In its way, this is hate literature," said one lawmaker.

The mailings coincide with the initial hearings of a special interim committee on driver education, headed by Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint.

One committee member, Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, is concerned enough to try to trace the origin of the mail.

"I'm working on it," he said. "I've found out that one of the postmarks was from a postal station in East Detroit."

Comic Coloring Book

The most acid—and the funniest—piece of anonymous mail is "Driver Education Coloring Book."

The book's copyrighter, Brint Schorer Jr. of Hartford Conn., said he put the book together "on my own and it was sold to anyone interested.

"I'm not at liberty to give out the names of those who bought it in quantities," Schorer said. He said the idea was his, and that it was a speculative venture for his firm, Triad Advertising Co.

He said he made volume direct mailings of the book to lawmakers in Illlinois, California, Arizona, New York, and Connecticut as well as Michigan since the book was published last year.

A more serious attack on what it calls "the driver education hoax in our schools" came in the form of a book titled "the Highway Jungle," published by Exposition Press, which is known to book reviewers as a "vanity house."

Good Address List

Vanity houses print memoirs or other books done for the satisfaction of the authors themselves—and at the author's expense — rather than for consumpton by the general book-buying public.

"Highway Jungle's" author is Edward A. Tenny, of Barton City, Mich. The book jacket says Tenney taught at Michigan State, Oberlin College, Cornell and Indiana State.

Barton City's postmistress said Tenny recently moved to Arden, N. C.

"I never heard of him," said Lane. "But then there were a lot of things I never heard of before I got into this. I'd like to hear more from Tenney. We might even try to get him up here to testify."

Whoever is mailing the literature, which also includes pamphlets knocking driver education, has a good address list.

Besides committee members, of both houses are getting the mail—some of it both at their residences and their Lansing hotels or motels.

Today's Chuckle

Beware of the half-truth — it may be the wrong half.

Report Of FBI On Murder Of President Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were strong indications today that the FBI has completed its bulky report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy without closing its wide-ranging investigation.

Newsmen got hints—but not from any official spokesmen, who refused comment—that the report has been turned over to the Justice Department, which will forward it to President Johnson.

The President in turn is expected to transmit the report to the review commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The Warren commission meets this afternoon. Whether it was to receive the report then was not known in advance.

The FBI is understood to have concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, ex-Marine and Marxist, planned and executed alone the Nov. 22 slaying in Dallas.

Warren has assured that the bipartisan body will reach beyond the official findings if necessary to clear up any questions that the FBI and six cooperating agencies have not answered to the commission's satisfaction.

Warren announced Thursday, after a 2½-hour commission meeting that Congress will be asked to arm the group with subpoena power. Congress is sure to respond quickly; legislation already is being drafted.

Machinery was in motion also to equip the commission with staff aides, offices and operating procedures.

The Warren group has full authority, under Johnson's executive order of last Friday which created it, to go beyond a mere evaluation of the FBI and other findings. The order empowers it to "conduct any further investigation it deems desirable."

Whether hearings will be held was not decided. Warren told reporters that none of the procedural questions had been settled finally.

Still to be resolved also was the question whether the White House will make public the FBI report before or after the commission studies and evaluates it.

Johnson promised that the findings would be made public in full, but did not say when, and White House press officers have been vague on the question.

Warren told newsmen after Thursday's meeting that the commission still was working somewhat in the dark in approaching what he called its "very sad and very solemn duty" because it had not received the FBI or any other government report.

Gladstone Port Project Added To Senate Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate had before it today a bill calling for more than $4 million in water project appropriations for Michigan.

In addition to projects approved by the House Nov. 20 as part of a $4.5 billion public works bill, the Senate Appropriations Committee passed on three more Michigan appropriations items for consideration by the Senate.

Added were $200,000 for construction at Gladstone Harbor, $75,000 for planning at Ontonagan Harbor and $258,000 more for the new Poe Lock in the St. Marys River. The House already has approved $242,000 for the lock.

Ford Walkout Ends At Wayne

DETROIT (AP)—A strike at the Ford Motor Co.'s Wayne, Mich., assembly plant, one of three Ford walkouts threatening idleness for 14,200 workers, was settled today.

Ford announced the settlement after all-night bargaining with Local 900 of the United Auto Workers.

The strike affected 1,800 workers. The union rank and file will vote on settlement terms on the weekend. Production resumes Monday if terms are ratified.

Strikes at Kansas City and Metuchen, N. J., factories, together with the Wayne walkout, had idled 6,500 men.

The company said another 7,700 men would be laid off at other factories if the three strikes were not settled soon.

Negotiations with UA Wlocals continued at both Metuchen and Kansas City.

Strike issues were said to include production rates.

The strikes began Nov. 11 at Kansas City, Nov. 14 at Metuchen and Nov. 22 at Wayne. Layoffs followed at plants in Buffalo, N. Y.; Chicago, Cleveland, Dearborn and Utica, Mich. Ford said the payoffs were necessary to balance parts supplies.

Royal Families Of Britain Home For Christmas

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Kent, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, arrived from Hong Kong with the duchess for the usual royal celebration of Christmas.

The duchess, like the queen, Princess Margaret and Princess Alexandra, expects a baby next year. All four royal families will spend Christmas at Sandringham, the queen's country home.

Fish Industry To Get Boost

LANSING (AP) — A resolution in the Senate promises some pleasant publicity for Michigan's fish industry, which has been plagued for months by a botulism poison scare

Senate Minority Leader Charlees Blondy, D - Detroit, Thursday introduced the document, which proclaims Dec 16-21 "Michigan Fish Week," and "urges the citizens of the state to enjoy this wonderful Michigan product"

He said the week will begin with a huge fish dinner, financed by the industry, served in the Capitol building for all legislators and members of the State Administrative Board

The resolution praises the industry for "many years of outstanding service," and notes its contribution to the state economy

Botulism poisoning deaths traced to Great Lakes fish produces have caused a drop in sales of Michigan-processed fish, resulting in a drop in employment in the industry

Goldwater Says He Holds Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders are not saying if they agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater's assessment that he holds the lead in the race for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

But there are reports of a move to put former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the New Hampshire primary, and Goldwater says, "The whole country is in a position of flux."

Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York have been holding their fire since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22. For the Arizona senator, who has not declared himself a candidate, and for Rockefeller, who has, this has meant a halt to political speechmaking.

The curtain of silence that descended in the Goldwater camp appeared to be lifting a bit Thursday.

In his first interview since Kennedy's death, the Arizona conservative said he thinks he remains in the lead, but "I feel that you can't say for sure."

"I'm in a position now of major reassessment," Goldwater said. "My people are out all over the country asking questions. I don't think my support has changed from what it was."

Next March's New Hampshire presidential primary is the nation's first. The Granite State race traditionally has been a testing ground for presidential hopefuls.

A report that Nixon's name may be entered was printed in the Washington Star.

Through an aide, Nixon said that he is not commenting on anything right now. Nixon has said he will not be a candidate in 1964

PARADISE (AP) — A motel burned down in Paradise in the eastern Uppper Peninsula Thursday. A bucket brigade's effort failed.

Kennedys Move To Georgetown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy leaves the White House today in sorrow and bereavement—two weeks, almost to the hour, after her husband was slain in Dallas.

Mrs. Kennedy is taking her children from a goldfish bowl existence to the quiet life of a borrowed home on N Street in Georgetown.

She and her husband lived in the area before Sen. John F. Kennedy was elected president in 1960.

Caroline Kennedy, 6, will be coming back every day for a while to attend first grade classes at the White House school, which Mrs. Kennedy founded to give her children privacy and the company of other children their age.

John Jr., 3, will have to find his play pals elsewhere now. And there will be no more visits to the big oval office where his father managed to find time for him despite the awesome burdens of the presidency.

Their new house, lent to them by Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, is a temporary residence for the three. Mrs. Kennedy will look for a permanent home in Washington.

Goldwater Says He Holds Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders are not saying if they agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater's assessment that he holds the lead in the race for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

But there are reports of a move to put former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the New Hampshire primary, and Goldwater says, "The whole country is in a position of flux."

Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York have been holding their fire since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22. For the Arizona senator, who has not declared himself a candidate, and for Rockefeller, who has, this has meant a halt to political speechmaking.

The curtain of silence that descended in the Goldwater camp appeared to be lifting a bit Thursday.

In his first interview since Kennedy's death, the Arizona conservative said he thinks he remains in the lead, but "I feel that you can't say for sure."

"I'm in a position now of major reassessment," Goldwater said. "My people are out all over the country asking questions. I don't think my support has changed from what it was."

Next March's New Hampshire presidential primary is the nation's first. The Granite State race traditionally has been a testing ground for presidential hopefuls.

A report that Nixon's name may be entered was printed in the Washington Star.

Through an aide, Nixon said that he is not commenting on anything right now. Nixon has said he will not be a candidate in 1964

Mystery Mail Attacks School Driver Training

LANSING (AP) — A flood of mystery mail blasting Michigan's public school driver education program has been pouring into the mailboxes of legislators.

It arrives in envelopes which have no return addresses and may have postmarks from Michigan, Connecticut or Arizona. Some of it, hand-carried, has been left in lawmakers' hotels.

"In its way, this is hate literature," said one lawmaker.

The mailings coincide with the initial hearings of a special interim committee on driver education, headed by Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint.

One committee member, Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, is concerned enough to try to trace the origin of the mail.

"I'm working on it," he said. "I've found out that one of the postmarks was from a postal station in East Detroit."

Comic Coloring Book

The most acid—and the funniest—piece of anonymous mail is "Driver Education Coloring Book."

The book's copyrighter, Brint Schorer Jr. of Hartford Conn., said he put the book together "on my own and it was sold to anyone interested.

"I'm not at liberty to give out the names of those who bought it in quantities," Schorer said. He said the idea was his, and that it was a speculative venture for his firm, Triad Advertising Co.

He said he made volume direct mailings of the book to lawmakers in Illinois, California, Arizona, New York, and Connecticut as well as Michigan since the book was published last year.

A more serious attack on what it calls "the driver education hoax in our schools" came in the form of a book titled "the Highway Jungle," published by Exposition Press, which is known to book reviewers as a "vanity house."

Good Address List

Vanity houses print memoirs or other books done for the satisfaction of the authors themselves—and at the author's expense — rather than for consumpton by the general book-buying public.

"Highway Jungle's" author is Edward A. Tenny, of Barton City, Mich. The book jacket says Tenney taught at Michigan State, Oberlin College, Cornell and Indiana State.

Barton City's postmistress said Tenny recently moved to Arden, N. C.

"I never heard of him," said Lane. "But then there were a lot of things I never heard of before I got into this. I'd like to hear more from Tenney. We might even try to get him up here to testify."

Whoever is mailing the literature, which also includes pamphlets knocking driver education, has a good address list.

Besides committee members, of both houses are getting the mail—some of it both at their residences and their Lansing hotels or motels.

Beware of the half-truth — it may be the wrong half.

Report Of FBI On Murder Of President Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were strong indications today that the FBI has completed its bulky report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy without closing its wide-ranging investigation.

Newsmen got hints—but not from any official spokesmen, who refused comment—that the report has been turned over to the Justice Department, which will forward it to President Johnson.

The President in turn is expected to transmit the report to the review commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The Warren commission meets this afternoon. Whether it was to receive the report then was not known in advance.

The FBI is understood to have concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, ex-Marine and Marxist, planned and executed alone the Nov. 22 slaying in Dallas.

Warren has assured that the bipartisan body will reach beyond the official findings if necessary to clear up any questions that the FBI and six cooperating agencies have not answered to the commission's satisfaction.

Warren announced Thursday, after a 2½-hour commission meeting that Congress will be asked to arm the group with subpoena power. Congress is sure to respond quickly; legislation already is being drafted.

Machinery was in motion also to equip the commission with staff aides, offices and operating procedures.

The Warren group has full authority, under Johnson's executive order of last Friday which created it, to go beyond a mere evaluation of the FBI and other findings. The order empowers it to "conduct any further investigation it deems desirable."

Whether hearings will be held was not decided. Warren told reporters that none of the procedural questions had been settled finally.

Still to be resolved also was the question whether the White House will make public the FBI report before or after the commission studies and evaluates it.

Johnson promised that the findings would be made public in full, but did not say when, and White House press officers have been vague on the question.

Warren told newsmen after Thursday's meeting that the commission still was working somewhat in the dark in approaching what he called its "very sad and very solemn duty" because it had not received the FBI or any other government report.

Gladstone Port Project Added To Senate Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate had before it today a bill calling for more than $4 million in water project appropriations for Michigan.

In addition to projects approved by the House Nov. 20 as part of a $4.5 billion public works bill, the Senate Appropriations Committee passed on three more Michigan appropriations items for consideration by the Senate.

Added were $200,000 for construction at Gladstone Harbor, $75,000 for planning at Ontonagan Harbor and $258,000 more for the new Poe Lock in the St. Marys River. The House already has approved $242,000 for the lock.

Ford Walkout Ends At Wayne

DETROIT (AP)—A strike at the Ford Motor Co.'s Wayne, Mich., assembly plant, one of three Ford walkouts threatening idleness for 14,200 workers, was settled today.

Ford announced the settlement after all-night bargaining with Local 900 of the United Auto Workers.

The strike affected 1,800 workers. The union rank and file will vote on settlement terms on the weekend. Production resumes Monday if terms are ratified.

Strikes at Kansas City and Metuchen, N. J., factories, together with the Wayne walkout, had idled 6,500 men.

The company said another 7,700 men would be laid off at other factories if the three strikes were not settled soon.

Negotiations with UA Wlocals continued at both Metuchen and Kansas City.

Strike issues were said to include production rates.

The strikes began Nov. 11 at Kansas City, Nov. 14 at Metuchen and Nov. 22 at Wayne. Layoffs followed at plants in Buffalo, N. Y.; Chicago, Cleveland, Dearborn and Utica, Mich. Ford said the payoffs were necessary to balance parts supplies.

Royal Families Of Britain Home For Christmas

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Kent, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, arrived from Hong Kong with the duchess for the usual royal celebration of Christmas.

The duchess, like the queen, Princess Margaret and Princess Alexandra, expects a baby next year. All four royal families will spend Christmas at Sandringham, the queen's country home.

Fish Industry To Get Boost

LANSING (AP) — A resolution in the Senate promises some pleasant publicity for Michigan's fish industry, which has been plagued for months by a botulism poison scare

Senate Minority Leader Charlees Blondy, D - Detroit, Thursday introduced the document, which proclaims Dec 16-21 "Michigan Fish Week," and "urges the citizens of the state to enjoy this wonderful Michigan product"

He said the week will begin with a huge fish dinner, financed by the industry, served in the Capitol building for all legislators and members of the State Administrative Board

The resolution praises the industry for "many years of outstanding service," and notes its contribution to the state economy

Botulism poisoning deaths traced to Great Lakes fish produces have caused a drop in sales of Michigan-processed fish, resulting in a drop in employment in the industry

Harnischfeger Closing Diesel Engine Division

Harnischfeger Corp. today announced plans to close and sell its diesel engine manufacturing plant at Crystal Lake, Ill.

The sale will not affect the Escanaba operation of Harnischfeger, it announced, except to make Harnischfeger diesels no longer available as one of the options of power supply to firms buying P&H excavators, truck cranes and other equipment.

Harnischfeger has always offered its customers a choice of power plants in its excavators and these choices will no longer include its own diesel engines with the closing of the Crystal Lake plant, which employed 200 persons.

President Henry Harnischfeger announced that the present order list of the plant has been filled and that the plant will be closed in 60 days. The Diesel Division of Harnischfeger was created in 1946 and the Crystal Lake plant was built in 1952 on an 80-acre site.

"We feel that our resources and energies can best be directed, through acquisition and development, to products which offer greater potential for more profitable company growth," said Harnischfeger.

The company recently began expansion of its large overhead crane business at Milwaukee in a multi-billion dollar project and closed its weld rod making facilities in Milwaukee to locate them in an area of greater proximity to markets.

Sales of the Diesel Engine Division amounted to less than 5 pct. of the company's overall volume of $87 million, it said. Its aluminum block diesel engines were designed primarily for industrial, marine and automotive uses rather than in Harnischfeger's own construction machinery and cranes. The Diesel Division's "growing unprofitability" was cited as the principal reason for closing it.

Engine parts and service will continue to be available.

Harnischfeger has some 4,450 workers in Milwaukee, Escanaba, Los Angeles and Crystal Lake.

Congo Order

A foreign aid financed order for $32,249 worth of excavating machinery sold in the Congo has been placed with the Harnischfeger Corp. plant at Escanaba, according to the Agency for International Development.

Purchase by a Congolese firm was made under the U. S. economic development program in the Republic of Congo, part of which provides financing of essential commodity imports needed for economic growth. U. S. and other free world aid in the Congo is directed toward stabilizating its economy, leading to further development as an independent nation.

Under current AID policies more than 80 per cent of economic aid funds is obligated for expenditure within the United States. For the last fiscal year preliminary figures show that $1.3 billion in AID funds were spent for goods and services in this country.

Two Escanabans On NMU Council

MARQUETTE—Two Escanaba young women have been elected to the Student Council at Northern Michigan University for the 1963-64 season.

Mary Sue Boyce, 118 S. 12th St., is one of the four sophomore class representatives on the Council, and Joan Vinette, 1200 S. 17th St., a senior, is serving her second term on the Council.

Miss Boyce is enrolled in elementary education and is primarily interested with the kindergarten age level. Miss Vinette is serving the council as secretary this year. She is a home economics major.

The Student Council is comprised of 16 representatives of the student body, in addition to the president. The students are elected in an open campus election, with four representatives from each class.

Council members include Kay Vanderhoff, Rapid River and Natalie Warshawsky, Manistique, junior.

Death Claims Arne Sviland

Arne Sviland, 81, of 222 S. 3rd St., widely known long-time Escanaba resident, died at 12:20 a.m. today after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Sviland owned and operated a painting and decorating business until his retirement. He was born in Stavanger, Norway, Nov. 22, 1882, and came to the United States to settle in Escanaba in 1902. He was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M., and the North Star Lodge.

Mr. Sviland, who retained his love for his homeland throughout his life, made four trips back to Norway to visit his birthplace and see members of his family, in 1906, 1911, 1929 and 1953.

When he opened his business, painters worked ten hours a day and received $2 a day, he often recalled. He was the first Escanaba painter to own a truck — before that he and other members of his trade used bicycles and push-carts.

He leaves his wife, the former Ethel Magnuson; two sons, Irwin and Dale, Escanaba; seven grandchildren; a sister, Miss Ingrid Sviland, Escanaba; one sister in Norway, and two brothers, Alfred and Sverre, Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Sunday. The Masonic services will be held there at 8 p.m. The body will be removed at 11 a.m. Monday to Immanuel Lutheran Church where services will be conducted by the Rev. Gordon Thorpe at 1:30 p.m. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Youth Escapes Injury When Car Hits Pole

A 16-year-old Rte. 1, Gladstone youth and two companions escaped injury when their car went off County Road 426 near Cornell and struck a utility pole, knocking it down, at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Sheriff's officers said the youth told them he thought he heard the rear tire of his car blow out and as he drove along he opened the door to look. While looking backwards the car went off the side of the road into a ditch and struck the pole.

Extensive damage was done to the car. The youth will be referred to the Probate Court for no operator's license.

Troop 404 Plans Court Of Honor

Rotary Club Troop 404 will hold a Court of Honor ceremony Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Seven boys will be invested as Tenderfot Scouts. They are: Steve Breault, Kim Erickson, Mark Olson, Steve Vanlerberghe, Bruce Turner, Wayne Peterson and Roger Soronowski.

Twenty-two merit badges will also be presented at the Monday meeting.

Scouts receiving their Star badges will include: Steve Davis, Fred Gravelle Jr., Dennis Reeves and Dick Rusha.

Slide pictures of the canoe trip which Troop 404 took to Canada last summer will also be shown. Parents of all scouts in Troop 404 and other interested persons are invited to attend.

Uncle Of Local Resident Dies In Chicago, Ill.

Stanley McCaskill, 74, of 6 N. Hamlin, Chicago, died at West Side Veterans Hospital Thursday at 3:45 p. m. He had been a patient there since Oct. 19.

He was born in Superior, Wis., Sept. 26, 1889, and had lived in Chicago 56 years. He was an army veteran of World War I. He is survived by a nephew, George R. Labre of Escanaba.

The body will be brought here to the Boyle Funeral Home where arrangements for services will be made.

R. G. Nelson Heads Masons

At the regular meeting of Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M., held Wednesday evening, Richard G. Nelson of 1116 S. 16th St. was elected worshipful master and will be installed in public ceremonies on Saturday, Dec. 7 at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple, 617 Ludington Street.

Elected to serve with him were:

The Deputy Grand Master and installing officer will be Fred Fisher assisted by Rev. Karl J. Hammar, grand chaplain, Guy W. Knutson, grand secretary and Fred L. Bennette, grand marshall.

The public and visiting Masons are invited to attend the installation and reception which will follow the ceremony.

Auxiliary Party At Bark River

BARK RIVER — The Rheaume-Knauf American Legion Auxiliary will hold its Christmas party at the Bark River Community Hall Monday evening. There will be an exchange of gifts. The Auxiliary is sponsoring a variety booth at the pancake supper which the local Legion Post is serving Sunday evening from 4 to 9 p. m. The committee in charge of the booth is Mesdames Armine Sundquist, Martha Hurtibese and LaVona Motto. Bakery, candy and fancy work will be featured.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sundquist spent the holidays in Flint. The Raymonds visited Mrs. Raymond's sister and family, the W. J. Klamerts in Flint, and with the Lawrence Lessards in Detroit. The Sundquists visited their daughter, Sharyn, who is teaching in the elementary grades in Fenton. Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Quist and family visited during the holiday weekend with their daughter, Mary Lou Quist, who is a math teacher in the Fenton High School.

Hotel Reopens In Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Ann Arbor businessman Eugene Power has purchased Park Place Hotel, this city's tallest structure, and plans to reopen it next summmmer as Park Place Motor Inn Inc.

Financial details were not disclosed in the announcement Thursday.

The 11-story hotel was closed Sept. 1 by its former owners on grounds of declining revenue.

Power named Ralph Gillam of Charlevoix as manager of the new operation.

MRS. ANNA LARSON, 85, believed to be the oldest Legion Auxiliary member in the Upper Peninsula district, received a corsage, and Mrs. Edward Kaminen was presented with a community service certificate from the American Red Cross at Rock Legion Auxiliary party at the Legion clubhouse Wednesday evening. The presentations were made by Mrs. Clifford Carlson, Auxiliary president. (Mrs. Albert Weldum Photo)

12 Is Limit:

Driver Permit Lost On Points

Traffic law enforcement officers say that most Michigan motorists don't realize how easy it is for them to lose their operator's license.

Running a stop sign a couple of times and getting picked up for speeding once or twice in a two-year period can bring suspension of license. It's that easy under Michigan's "point system."

Records of the Escanaba Police Department indicate that about 350 "original" operator's licenses are issued each year. The figure was 369 to Dec. 4. Many of these, of course, are young people who have completed driver training and are acquiring a license for the first time; others are drivers who moved to Escanaba from other states.

Purpose of the point system in Michigan is to protect the millions of careful and courteous drivers against the habitual violator.

The point system was established by the Legislature and it provides that an accumulation of 12 points within two years can take you off the road. In addition, under the Financial Responsibility laws, your driver's license must be taken away for serious violations.

The number of points assigned for particular violations:

6 — Manslaughter, negligent homicide, or commission of a felony involving the use of a motor vehicle.

6—Driving under the influence of intoxcating liquor or narcotic drugs.

6—Failing to stop and disclose identity at scene of accident when required by law.

6—Reckless driving.

4—Speeding 16 miles or more over lawful limit.

3—Speeding 11 through 15 miles an hour over lawful limit.

2—Speeding 10 miles an hour or less over lawful limit.

3—Disobeying traffic signal, stop sign, or improper passing.

2—Other moving violations.

The motorist may lose his operator's license in one swoop if he is convicted for serious offenses under Michigan's financial responsibility laws.

His driving privileges must be suspended for manslaughter or negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle.

For driving under the influence of narcotics or intoxicating liquor, or permittting another person to drive your vehicle while under the influence of liquor or narcotics.

For any felony involving a motor vehicle.

For three charges of reckless driving within a 12-month period.

For failure by the driver to stop and disclose his identity at the scene of an accident resulting in death or injury to another person.

Conviction of the above brings not only a mandatory suspension but also a minimum of 6 points under the point system.

Renew Appeal For Used Toys

Escanaba firemen today voiced a renewed appeal for used toys to repair, so that some child in a less fortunate home in the community will have a brighter Christmas.

Fire Chief Nels Bergeon urges that toys, wagons, tricycles, sleighs, trucks, skates, dolls and other items suitable for Christmas gifts for the unfortunate children. The toys may be brought to the south side fire station at City Hall, or call the Salvation Army ST6-0590, or the Christmas Headquarters at the former Rose Park Store ST6-0282 for the top pick-up.

Chief Bergeon stresses that plastic toys which are broken cannot be mended by the firemen, but wood and metal toys can be repaired by them. The toys must be received within the next fey days to be reconditioned for Christmas distribution.

Last year the Escanaba firemen and their Santa's helpers reconditioned approximately 3,500 toys for the needy families, asid Chief Bergeon.

The Christmas toy project is sponsored by the firemen, Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Salvation Army. Captain Orville Butts of the Salvation Army will distribute toys, and baskets from the Christmas Headquarters Rose Park Store to the needy families before Christmas Eve.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual used top collection campaign in cooperation with the firemen's repair project Dec. 8-6. JC's are asking school students in Escanaba to bring toys that can be repaired and refinished to their school. The JC's will pick up the toys at the schools.

"Let's all help make this a happier Christmas for some boy or girl," said Chief Bergeon. "You can help by giving good repairable toys."

Captain Butts of the Salvation Army is to organize a sewing club to clean and make new dresses for the dolls. If other sewing clubs are interested they may call the Salvation Army at 112 N. 15th St.

Harnischfeger Closing Diesel Engine Division

Harnischfeger Corp. today announced plans to close and sell its diesel engine manufacturing plant at Crystal Lake, Ill.

The sale will not affect the Escanaba operation of Harnischfeger, it announced, except to make Harnischfeger diesels no longer available as one of the options of power supply to firms buying P&H excavators, truck cranes and other equipment.

Harnischfeger has always offered its customers a choice of power plants in its excavators and these choices will no longer include its own diesel engines with the closing of the Crystal Lake plant, which employed 200 persons.

"We feel that our resources and energies can best be directed, through acquisition and development, to products which offer greater potential for more profitable company growth," said Harnischfeger.

The company recently began expansion of its large overhead crane business at Milwaukee in a multi-billion dollar project and closed its weld rod making facilities in Milwaukee to locate them in an area of greater proximity to markets.

Sales of the Diesel Engine Division amounted to less than 5 pct. of the company's overall volume of $87 million, it said. Its aluminum block diesel engines were designed primarily for industrial, marine and automotive uses rather than in Harnischfeger's own construction machinery and cranes. The Diesel Division's "growing unprofitability" was cited as the principal reason for closing it.

Engine parts and service will continue to be available.

Harnischfeger has some 4,450 workers in Milwaukee, Escanaba, Los Angeles and Crystal Lake.

Arne Sviland, 81, of 222 S. 3rd St., widely known long-time Escanaba resident, died at 12:20 a.m. today after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Sviland owned and operated a painting and decorating business until his retirement. He was born in Stavanger, Norway, Nov. 22, 1882, and came to the United States to settle in Escanaba in 1902. He was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M., and the North Star Lodge.

Mr. Sviland, who retained his love for his homeland throughout his life, made four trips back to Norway to visit his birthplace and see members of his family, in 1906, 1911, 1929 and 1953.

When he opened his business, painters worked ten hours a day and received $2 a day, he often recalled. He was the first Escanaba painter to own a truck — before that he and other members of his trade used bicycles and push-carts.

He leaves his wife, the former Ethel Magnuson; two sons, Irwin and Dale, Escanaba; seven grandchildren; a sister, Miss Ingrid Sviland, Escanaba; one sister in Norway, and two brothers, Alfred and Sverre, Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Sunday. The Masonic services will be held there at 8 p.m. The body will be removed at 11 a.m. Monday to Immanuel Lutheran Church where services will be conducted by the Rev. Gordon Thorpe at 1:30 p.m. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Youth Escapes Injury When Car Hits Pole

A 16-year-old Rte. 1, Gladstone youth and two companions escaped injury when their car went off County Road 426 near Cornell and struck a utility pole, knocking it down, at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Sheriff's officers said the youth told them he thought he heard the rear tire of his car blow out and as he drove along he opened the door to look. While looking backwards the car went off the side of the road into a ditch and struck the pole.

Extensive damage was done to the car. The youth will be referred to the Probate Court for no operator's license.

The public and visiting Masons are invited to attend the installation and reception which will follow the ceremony.

Auxiliary Party At Bark River

BARK RIVER — The Rheaume-Knauf American Legion Auxiliary will hold its Christmas party at the Bark River Community Hall Monday evening. There will be an exchange of gifts. The Auxiliary is sponsoring a variety booth at the pancake supper which the local Legion Post is serving Sunday evening from 4 to 9 p. m. The committee in charge of the booth is Mesdames Armine Sundquist, Martha Hurtibese and LaVona Motto. Bakery, candy and fancy work will be featured.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sundquist spent the holidays in Flint. The Raymonds visited Mrs. Raymond's sister and family, the W. J. Klamerts in Flint, and with the Lawrence Lessards in Detroit. The Sundquists visited their daughter, Sharyn, who is teaching in the elementary grades in Fenton. Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Quist and family visited during the holiday weekend with their daughter, Mary Lou Quist, who is a math teacher in the Fenton High School.

Hotel Reopens In Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Ann Arbor businessman Eugene Power has purchased Park Place Hotel, this city's tallest structure, and plans to reopen it next summmmer as Park Place Motor Inn Inc.

Financial details were not disclosed in the announcement Thursday.

The 11-story hotel was closed Sept. 1 by its former owners on grounds of declining revenue.

Power named Ralph Gillam of Charlevoix as manager of the new operation.

MRS. ANNA LARSON, 85, believed to be the oldest Legion Auxiliary member in the Upper Peninsula district, received a corsage, and Mrs. Edward Kaminen was presented with a community service certificate from the American Red Cross at Rock Legion Auxiliary party at the Legion clubhouse Wednesday evening. The presentations were made by Mrs. Clifford Carlson, Auxiliary president. (Mrs. Albert Weldum Photo)

12 Is Limit:

Driver Permit Lost On Points

Traffic law enforcement officers say that most Michigan motorists don't realize how easy it is for them to lose their operator's license.

Running a stop sign a couple of times and getting picked up for speeding once or twice in a two-year period can bring suspension of license. It's that easy under Michigan's "point system."

Records of the Escanaba Police Department indicate that about 350 "original" operator's licenses are issued each year. The figure was 369 to Dec. 4. Many of these, of course, are young people who have completed driver training and are acquiring a license for the first time; others are drivers who moved to Escanaba from other states.

Purpose of the point system in Michigan is to protect the millions of careful and courteous drivers against the habitual violator.

The point system was established by the Legislature and it provides that an accumulation of 12 points within two years can take you off the road. In addition, under the Financial Responsibility laws, your driver's license must be taken away for serious violations.

The number of points assigned for particular violations:

6 — Manslaughter, negligent homicide, or commission of a felony involving the use of a motor vehicle.

6—Driving under the influence of intoxcating liquor or narcotic drugs.

6—Failing to stop and disclose identity at scene of accident when required by law.

6—Reckless driving.

4—Speeding 16 miles or more over lawful limit.

3—Speeding 11 through 15 miles an hour over lawful limit.

2—Speeding 10 miles an hour or less over lawful limit.

3—Disobeying traffic signal, stop sign, or improper passing.

2—Other moving violations.

The motorist may lose his operator's license in one swoop if he is convicted for serious offenses under Michigan's financial responsibility laws.

His driving privileges must be suspended for manslaughter or negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle.

For driving under the influence of narcotics or intoxicating liquor, or permittting another person to drive your vehicle while under the influence of liquor or narcotics.

For any felony involving a motor vehicle.

For three charges of reckless driving within a 12-month period.

For failure by the driver to stop and disclose his identity at the scene of an accident resulting in death or injury to another person.

Conviction of the above brings not only a mandatory suspension but also a minimum of 6 points under the point system.

Renew Appeal For Used Toys

Escanaba firemen today voiced a renewed appeal for used toys to repair, so that some child in a less fortunate home in the community will have a brighter Christmas.

Fire Chief Nels Bergeon urges that toys, wagons, tricycles, sleighs, trucks, skates, dolls and other items suitable for Christmas gifts for the unfortunate children. The toys may be brought to the south side fire station at City Hall, or call the Salvation Army ST6-0590, or the Christmas Headquarters at the former Rose Park Store ST6-0282 for the top pick-up.

Chief Bergeon stresses that plastic toys which are broken cannot be mended by the firemen, but wood and metal toys can be repaired by them. The toys must be received within the next fey days to be reconditioned for Christmas distribution.

Last year the Escanaba firemen and their Santa's helpers reconditioned approximately 3,500 toys for the needy families, asid Chief Bergeon.

The Christmas toy project is sponsored by the firemen, Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Salvation Army. Captain Orville Butts of the Salvation Army will distribute toys, and baskets from the Christmas Headquarters Rose Park Store to the needy families before Christmas Eve.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual used top collection campaign in cooperation with the firemen's repair project Dec. 8-6. JC's are asking school students in Escanaba to bring toys that can be repaired and refinished to their school. The JC's will pick up the toys at the schools.

"Let's all help make this a happier Christmas for some boy or girl," said Chief Bergeon. "You can help by giving good repairable toys."

Captain Butts of the Salvation Army is to organize a sewing club to clean and make new dresses for the dolls. If other sewing clubs are interested they may call the Salvation Army at 112 N. 15th St.

Dallas Shooting Is Re-enacted

DALLAS (AP)—Investigators have gathered empty shell casings at a spot where accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald could have practiced shooting a rifle, the Dallas News reported today.

Dallas police and FBI agents declined comment.

The newspaper gave this account:

Officers found numerous casings and a target about the size of a man's head near the Trinity River outside Iving, between Dallas and Fort Worth. Oswald's Russian wife and two children had been living in the home of an Irving woman, and he visited them there.

An unnamed police source said Secret Service agents have found witnesses who saw Oswald at a rifle range in Grand Prairie, immmediately southwest of Irving, between Nov. 10 and 16.

Federal agents again re-enacted the Nov. 22 assassination of President Kennedy.

A movie camera mounted on a piece of wood resembling a rifle barrel was aimed down from the sixth floor window where Oswald had been charged with firing the fatal shots.

A convertible moved slowly down the street on the route followed by the presidential motorcade. The camera was kept sighted on the vehicle. Surveyors used a transit and tape to determine the distance and trajectory if bullets were fired from the window.

Other measuremenets were made in the City Hall basement where Jack Ruby shot Oswald as police started moving him to the county jail.

Lehman, 4 Times Governor, Dies Of Heart Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Herbert H. Lehman, 85, four times governor of New York and also a former senator, died Thursday.

Lehman, a leader in his later years in a reform movement against the Democratic organization in New York, suffered a heart attack in his home at 820 Park Ave.

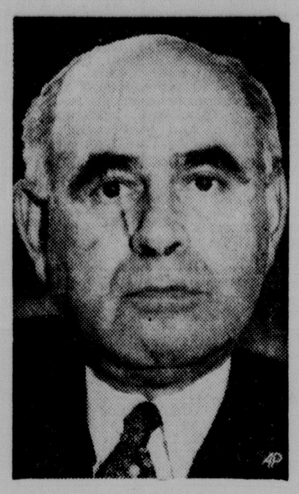
Lehman was regarded as the elder statesman of the Democratic party in New York and one of the party's most powerful figures in the state.

He suffered a broken hip in February while vacationing at Palm Springs, Calif., but had continued an active interest in politics.

He, with the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, had led the party's reform faction in its successful effort in 1961 to oust Carmine G. de Sapio, as leader of Tammany Hall, the powerful Manhattan Democratic organization.

Lehman was closely allied with the New Deal, Fair Deal and New Frontier wings of the party.

The late President John F. Kennedy reportedly was incensed when Lehman and Mrs. Roosevelt, attending a presidential campaign rally here in 1960, were not called upon by the regular leaders to speak.



Herbert H. Lehman

When Kennedy finished his own speech, he turned and pointedly walked over to Mrs. Roosevelt and Lehman to shake their hands.

Lehman did not enter politics actively until he was 50, after he had carved a career as a successful and wealthy executive in the financial world. He was a partner in Lehman Brothers, a banking firm, resigning in 1928.

That year he won election as lieutenant governor, running on a ticket with Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was elected governor. Roosevelt frequently called him "my good right arm."

When Roosevelt moved on to the presidency in 1932, Lehman won the governor's chair and held it for 10 years—three two-year terms and one four-year term.

Then he became head of the wartime Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation and later director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency.

Only once was he defeated in an election. That was in 1946 when he was beaten by Republican Irving M. Ives for the U.S. Senate.

In 1949, in a special senatorial election, Lehman defeated John Foster Dulles, who later became secretary of state in the Eisenhower administration. Lehman was returned to the Senate in 1950. He retired in 1956 at the age of 78.

Three Women Admit Perjury

LONDON (AP) — Christine Keeler, female star of the sex scandal which almost wrecked a British government, pleaded guilty to charges of perjury and conspiracy today and was sentenced to nine months in prison.

Tears welled up in the eyes of the 21 - year - old redhead as Judge Sir Anthony Hawke pronounced sentence in Old Bailey.

The maximum sentence for perjury could have been seven years imprisonment, while on the charge of conspiracy to subvert justice the sentence is left to the discretion of the judge.

Sir Anthony also imposed a six-month sentence on Christine but it will run concurrently with the longer term.

Her girl friend, Paula Hamilton - Marshall, 23, who also pleaded guilty, drew a six-month term.

Their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56, was placed on probation. She also had pleaded guilty to perjury and conspiracy.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued a traffic ticket to Jene A. Legg of 318 S. 10th St., for failing to have an operator's license.

China Giving New Dimensions To Civil Defense

Escanaba was host to a rural Civil Defense meeting for the Upper Peninsula at the Sherman Hotel on Thursday and to another in the House of Ludington for local government officers of 6 central U. P. counties today.

The officers in charge said that the double feature did not indicate an increased peril of atomic bombing of America, but an effort to use CD resources persons in two U. P. meetings.

Michigan State University managed both meetings. The U. S. Department of Agriculture made a contract with the MSU Cooperative Extension Service to supply information on Civil Defense to rural Michigan.

Thursday's meeting brought together representatives of the defense boards of the 15 U. P. counties to learn modern methods of protection of humans, livestock and property from atomic fallout.

Victor Stine, an agricultural engineer of MSU headed the program with Captain Richard Nicolen, Michigan State Police, deputy state director of Civil Defense.

Local Government

Today's meeting in the House of Ludington was concerned with Civil Defense programs of local governments. Dr. Leon Weaver, of MSU Continuing Education Service and School of Police Administration and Public Safety, said "We have no greater concern about the bomb than before, but too often we have had no concern at all. At long last the Federal Government has provided some money to spend on training.

"Civil Defense is being built into the structure of local government. Whether we like it or not Civil Defense is now part of the structure of county government.

"We do not want to tie Civil Defense activities to the international fever chart (of war scares) but to have an organization in being that can cope with emergencies.

"One of the dimensions of the future is the spread of nuclear weapons," said Weaver. "As many as 10 or 12 powers may have them with a decade. China will be a nuclear power within a few years. Although she will not rank with the U. S. and the Soviet Union, a nuclear capability will certainly add to her stature as the tallest dog in Asia.

China's Role

"If we take into account China's starving millions, expansionist urges, impending nuclear weapons capabiilty and truculent leadership, we can understand why China is viewed by some as representing in the 1970s a potentially more dangerous situation than we faced since the end of World War II. So if the Russians show signs of being easier to deal with, one reason seems to be that the shape of the picture has them scared, too."

"The situation is not without hope. There are indications that our strategy of deterrence - plus - negotiation is yielding results. The test ban agreement is a cautious first step.

"Civil Defense is viewed by our strategic planners as one essential part of the pattern of armed deterrence which is buying us time for negotiation. CD enhances the possibilities that enough of our people, resources and democratic values would survive a nuclear war to enable us to survive as a nation and as a culture.

"The available evidence suggests that a modest investment in CD would save enough more people and resources to enable us to recuperate faster."

Rural Defense

Public relations and the coordination between federal, state and local units of government in civil defense work were discussed in the meeting of Upper Peninsula U. S. Department of Agriculture defense board members at the Sherman Hotel Thursday.

USDA is a federal agency primarily concerned with production of food and fiber.

Victor Stine of Michigan State University, rural defense coordinator for Michigan, said the talk stressed need for communication, cooperation and coordination in CD.

"I feel", said Stine, "that the public should be kept well informed not only of the actions and plans of USDA, but of Civil Defense progress as well. One of the big drawbacks in these organizations is that we become so involved in red tape and the mechanics of the program that we forget the main objective—people.

"There has been much public apathy about the subject of defense. However, I feel that a good public information program can correct this situation. We must remember it is a generally accepted fact that people choose to ignore what they don't understand," said Stine.

He pointed out that while each agency has its own functions in the general over-all plan, the USDA works hand-in-hand with the local agencies of government and Civil Defense directors.

Thursday's meeting here was a training and informational meeting attended by USDA defense board representatives and Civil Defense people from throughout the Upper Peninsula. About 50 persons attended.

The level of Lake Michigan-Huron and Green Bay Bay de Noc during November was 0.78 foot below the level in November 1962 and 2.50 feet below the average level since 1860.

The November level was 0.41 foot above the lowest level on record in 1934 and 5.07 feet below the highest level on record in 1861.

The change from October to November was a decrease of 0.25 foot. The average change for the same period is a decrease of 0.22 foot.

School Closes For Conference

Something new to the Escanaba Junior High School will occur on Monday, Dec. 9, the day set aside for the annual parent-teacher conferences.

This year, for the first time, the junior high will suspend classes for the seventh and eighth graders on conference day to provide time for parents to visit with the teachers of their youngsters.

Teachers will be available in their rooms from 9 a. m., until noon and from 1-5 p. m. It is hoped that each child will be represented at the conferences. No appointment is necessary.

Library Invites Public Sunday

Residents of the Escanaba Area are asked to visit the Carnegie Public Library at its public open house from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, says Librarian Harry R. Courtright.

Visitors will see a changed library. It has recently has its north reading room changed to provide reading space and a large section of book stacks.

The reference library desk is now in the south reading room and the general circulation desk has been moved from the back end of the lobby to the south side. The card index has been moved out into the lobby for greater convenience of patrons.

The library, with more than 30,000 volumes is financed by the City of Escanaba with state aids and serves all city residents and Escanaba Area district students without charge, and out-of-city users at an annual fee of $1. The library has about 1,000 out-of-city patrons and more than 5,000 city patrons.

Library trustees are: Paul Vardigan, Lincoln Temby, Victor Powers, Miss Bernadette Brennan, Mrs. Gerald Schleicher, Charles Follo, Thaxter Shaw and Dr. Leonard Vader.

Dallas Shooting Is Re-enacted

DALLAS (AP)—Investigators have gathered empty shell casings at a spot where accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald could have practiced shooting a rifle, the Dallas News reported today.

Dallas police and FBI agents declined comment.

The newspaper gave this account:

Officers found numerous casings and a target about the size of a man's head near the Trinity River outside Iving, between Dallas and Fort Worth. Oswald's Russian wife and two children had been living in the home of an Irving woman, and he visited them there.

An unnamed police source said Secret Service agents have found witnesses who saw Oswald at a rifle range in Grand Prairie, immmediately southwest of Irving, between Nov. 10 and 16.

Federal agents again re-enacted the Nov. 22 assassination of President Kennedy.

A movie camera mounted on a piece of wood resembling a rifle barrel was aimed down from the sixth floor window where Oswald had been charged with firing the fatal shots.

A convertible moved slowly down the street on the route followed by the presidential motorcade. The camera was kept sighted on the vehicle. Surveyors used a transit and tape to determine the distance and trajectory if bullets were fired from the window.

Other measuremenets were made in the City Hall basement where Jack Ruby shot Oswald as police started moving him to the county jail.

Lehman, 4 Times Governor, Dies Of Heart Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Herbert H. Lehman, 85, four times governor of New York and also a former senator, died Thursday.

Lehman, a leader in his later years in a reform movement against the Democratic organization in New York, suffered a heart attack in his home at 820 Park Ave.

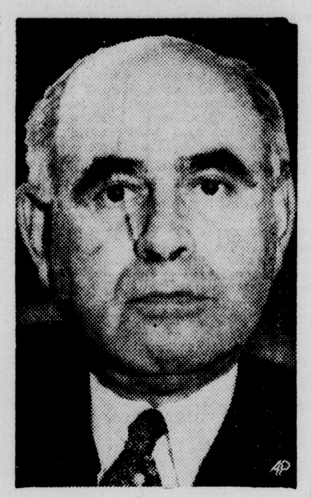
Lehman was regarded as the elder statesman of the Democratic party in New York and one of the party's most powerful figures in the state.

He suffered a broken hip in February while vacationing at Palm Springs, Calif., but had continued an active interest in politics.

He, with the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, had led the party's reform faction in its successful effort in 1961 to oust Carmine G. de Sapio, as leader of Tammany Hall, the powerful Manhattan Democratic organization.

Lehman was closely allied with the New Deal, Fair Deal and New Frontier wings of the party.

The late President John F. Kennedy reportedly was incensed when Lehman and Mrs. Roosevelt, attending a presidential campaign rally here in 1960, were not called upon by the regular leaders to speak.



Herbert H. Lehman

When Kennedy finished his own speech, he turned and pointedly walked over to Mrs. Roosevelt and Lehman to shake their hands.

Lehman did not enter politics actively until he was 50, after he had carved a career as a successful and wealthy executive in the financial world. He was a partner in Lehman Brothers, a banking firm, resigning in 1928.

That year he won election as lieutenant governor, running on a ticket with Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was elected governor. Roosevelt frequently called him "my good right arm."

When Roosevelt moved on to the presidency in 1932, Lehman won the governor's chair and held it for 10 years—three two-year terms and one four-year term.

Then he became head of the wartime Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation and later director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency.

Only once was he defeated in an election. That was in 1946 when he was beaten by Republican Irving M. Ives for the U.S. Senate.

In 1949, in a special senatorial election, Lehman defeated John Foster Dulles, who later became secretary of state in the Eisenhower administration. Lehman was returned to the Senate in 1950. He retired in 1956 at the age of 78.

Three Women Admit Perjury

LONDON (AP) — Christine Keeler, female star of the sex scandal which almost wrecked a British government, pleaded guilty to charges of perjury and conspiracy today and was sentenced to nine months in prison.

Tears welled up in the eyes of the 21 - year - old redhead as Judge Sir Anthony Hawke pronounced sentence in Old Bailey.

The maximum sentence for perjury could have been seven years imprisonment, while on the charge of conspiracy to subvert justice the sentence is left to the discretion of the judge.

Sir Anthony also imposed a six-month sentence on Christine but it will run concurrently with the longer term.

Her girl friend, Paula Hamilton - Marshall, 23, who also pleaded guilty, drew a six-month term.

Their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56, was placed on probation. She also had pleaded guilty to perjury and conspiracy.

China Giving New Dimensions To Civil Defense

Escanaba was host to a rural Civil Defense meeting for the Upper Peninsula at the Sherman Hotel on Thursday and to another in the House of Ludington for local government officers of 6 central U. P. counties today.

The officers in charge said that the double feature did not indicate an increased peril of atomic bombing of America, but an effort to use CD resources persons in two U. P. meetings.

Michigan State University managed both meetings. The U. S. Department of Agriculture made a contract with the MSU Cooperative Extension Service to supply information on Civil Defense to rural Michigan.

Thursday's meeting brought together representatives of the defense boards of the 15 U. P. counties to learn modern methods of protection of humans, livestock and property from atomic fallout.

Victor Stine, an agricultural engineer of MSU headed the program with Captain Richard Nicolen, Michigan State Police, deputy state director of Civil Defense.

Local Government

Today's meeting in the House of Ludington was concerned with Civil Defense programs of local governments. Dr. Leon Weaver, of MSU Continuing Education Service and School of Police Administration and Public Safety, said "We have no greater concern about the bomb than before, but too often we have had no concern at all. At long last the Federal Government has provided some money to spend on training.

"Civil Defense is being built into the structure of local government. Whether we like it or not Civil Defense is now part of the structure of county government.

"We do not want to tie Civil Defense activities to the international fever chart (of war scares) but to have an organization in being that can cope with emergencies.

"One of the dimensions of the future is the spread of nuclear weapons," said Weaver. "As many as 10 or 12 powers may have them with a decade. China will be a nuclear power within a few years. Although she will not rank with the U. S. and the Soviet Union, a nuclear capability will certainly add to her stature as the tallest dog in Asia.

China's Role

"If we take into account China's starving millions, expansionist urges, impending nuclear weapons capabiilty and truculent leadership, we can understand why China is viewed by some as representing in the 1970s a potentially more dangerous situation than we faced since the end of World War II. So if the Russians show signs of being easier to deal with, one reason seems to be that the shape of the picture has them scared, too."

"The situation is not without hope. There are indications that our strategy of deterrence - plus - negotiation is yielding results. The test ban agreement is a cautious first step.

"Civil Defense is viewed by our strategic planners as one essential part of the pattern of armed deterrence which is buying us time for negotiation. CD enhances the possibilities that enough of our people, resources and democratic values would survive a nuclear war to enable us to survive as a nation and as a culture.

"The available evidence suggests that a modest investment in CD would save enough more people and resources to enable us to recuperate faster."

Rural Defense

Public relations and the coordination between federal, state and local units of government in civil defense work were discussed in the meeting of Upper Peninsula U. S. Department of Agriculture defense board members at the Sherman Hotel Thursday.

USDA is a federal agency primarily concerned with production of food and fiber.

Victor Stine of Michigan State University, rural defense coordinator for Michigan, said the talk stressed need for communication, cooperation and coordination in CD.

"I feel", said Stine, "that the public should be kept well informed not only of the actions and plans of USDA, but of Civil Defense progress as well. One of the big drawbacks in these organizations is that we become so involved in red tape and the mechanics of the program that we forget the main objective—people.

"There has been much public apathy about the subject of defense. However, I feel that a good public information program can correct this situation. We must remember it is a generally accepted fact that people choose to ignore what they don't understand," said Stine.

He pointed out that while each agency has its own functions in the general over-all plan, the USDA works hand-in-hand with the local agencies of government and Civil Defense directors.

Thursday's meeting here was a training and informational meeting attended by USDA defense board representatives and Civil Defense people from throughout the Upper Peninsula. About 50 persons attended.

School Closes For Conference

Something new to the Escanaba Junior High School will occur on Monday, Dec. 9, the day set aside for the annual parent-teacher conferences.

This year, for the first time, the junior high will suspend classes for the seventh and eighth graders on conference day to provide time for parents to visit with the teachers of their youngsters.

Teachers will be available in their rooms from 9 a. m., until noon and from 1-5 p. m. It is hoped that each child will be represented at the conferences. No appointment is necessary.

Library Invites Public Sunday

Residents of the Escanaba Area are asked to visit the Carnegie Public Library at its public open house from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, says Librarian Harry R. Courtright.

Visitors will see a changed library. It has recently has its north reading room changed to provide reading space and a large section of book stacks.

The reference library desk is now in the south reading room and the general circulation desk has been moved from the back end of the lobby to the south side. The card index has been moved out into the lobby for greater convenience of patrons.

The library, with more than 30,000 volumes is financed by the City of Escanaba with state aids and serves all city residents and Escanaba Area district students without charge, and out-of-city users at an annual fee of $1. The library has about 1,000 out-of-city patrons and more than 5,000 city patrons.

Library trustees are: Paul Vardigan, Lincoln Temby, Victor Powers, Miss Bernadette Brennan, Mrs. Gerald Schleicher, Charles Follo, Thaxter Shaw and Dr. Leonard Vader.

Control Of Co-ops

The rural electric cooperatives—there are three in the Upper Peninsula — are intensively interested and somewhat apprehensive, no doubt, about a hearing set by the Federal Power Commission for Dec. 10 to determine whether it has limited control over three big electric co-ops.

The electric co-ops maintain that they're already regulated by the Rural Electrification Administration, which has financed them since Congress authorized the REA program in 1935 to electrify marginal rural areas. REA and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, of which REA is an agency, agree that the co-ops are properly regulated under REA without FPC looking at their books.

But FPC argues that the electric co-ops, just like the private power companies operating in interstate commerce, should be under FPC's rate making review if its supervision is going to be fair to all suppliers of electricity. The co-ops reply that such action would give the private utilities a foot in the door on their way to opposing REA loans from the government for new transmission and generation projects. FPC spokesmen say in rebuttal that they're not proposing that they pass on loans to co-ops by REA, but only that the co-ops' wholesale power rates be supervised.

Behind this power struggle is the new stature of the rural electric cooperatives. Starting small and modestly and doing a historic job of electrifying rural areas which the private utilities hadn't served. Some of the co-ops have grown large and expansive. Some of them cross state lines with big transmission networks served by large generating capacity. One of the three big electric co-ops that FPC is inquiring about on Dec. 10 is the Dairyland Power Co-operative of LaCrosse, Wis., which has assets of almost $80 million and customers in four states. Some of the co-ops have invested their surpluses in business enterprises.

The Federal Power Commission's hearing appears a sensible first step in clearing up some uncertainties about the control of electric power. The big co-ops are acquiring public utility character and REA controls appear fuzzy in situations where loan security isn't involved. If the co-ops are reluctant to open their books to the public, it may be because public taxes are making possible the 2 pct. interest rates at which the co-ops can borrow money from REA. If the co-ops don't need that much aid because they're doing so well, it will be of concern to Congress, which has several bills in the hopper to raise this interest rate on REA loans to the co-ops.

An airing of the situation should be healthful. The present setup, born of an effort to aid rural areas modernize, shouldn't be a tool to socialize the electric business by giving the wards of the REA financial advantages over the private utilities which must pay commercial rates for money and commercial taxes to support the government.

Ending Hate

Many Americans already are saying John Fitzgerald Kennedy is "our martyred president." But they differ widely on the nature of his martyrdom.

Even historians may one day define our late president as a martyr and perhaps find many reasons for doing so.

If it is to be thus, we may fairly hope they conclude that, among other things, he was martyred to the cause of a better American spirit. That spirit today is sadly flawed.

The day Kennedy was assassinated, a school teacher made the announcement to her class of 10-year-olds. The children did not exclaim in shocked disbelief. They applauded his death.

It matters not what city and region that school is in. It could have happened in a number of areas.

That it occurred at all is a measure of the stain on the American spirit in 1963.

Many people in this nation are saying that, as a result of John Kennedy's death, we must have done with hating, with spewing out poison, with turning every controversy into mental civil war.

Whole cities are being nearly engulfed by these poisons. On some subjects and in some places, the legitimate discussion which marks a viable democracy is virtually impossible. Argument is warped out of all resemblance to reality.

All of this is utterly foreign to the true spirit of America. This democracy lives by the free choices its people make. How can they make them without discussion of alternatives? How can democracy breathe soundly if the man who raises an alternative is branded "Communist" or "Fascist"?

A nation that has no room for choices cannot have a democracy. Its essence is discussion, negotiation, compromise.

But in the language of the ill in spirit, "negotiation" and "compromise" are evil words. They are seen as devices for the yielding of principle, if not the yielding to a foreign power.

★ ★ ★

In the internal conflicts which flow from this rigid outlook, political adversaries are labeled foreign agents or, at the very least, dupes who unwittingly serve an enemy cause.

These terrible distortions corrode American democracy at its core. It is a freeranging system. It is not meant to be constricted by argument founded on the "you're either for us or against us" theme.

Patience is beginning to run thin in this country with the haters, the distorters, the cheap dispensers of "enemy" labels. None has anything to do with the real America.

If John Fitzgerald Kennedy's death can etch that truth deeply in the now greatly troubled American conscience, then perhaps ws shall never have to hear again of school children applauding the death of a president.

"Let's Hold Our Fire, Suh, Maybe It's One of Ours!"

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Increased consumer expenditures for 1963, continuing well into 1964, are predicted by the latest reports from U. S. Departments of Commerce, Agriculture and Labor.

Since consumer purchases account for two-thirds of the total sales of goods and services in the United States, these forecasts give a good indication of business trends.

For the six months immediately ahead, the Department of Commerce reports high consumer buying intentions on autos, houses and household appliances, the so-called hard goods.

Reporting a record personal income at the annual rate of $470 billion for October, the Department of Commerce credits the recent pay raise granted U. S. armed forces for one-third of the $3 billion increase over September.

The increase over October 1962 is 5 per cent, or $22 billion. Another 5 per cent increase is predicted for 1964. All this adds to purchasing power, so it is a direct stimulus to the economy.

★ ★ ★

Principal focus of the Department of Agriculture's Outlook Conference, held at this time every year, is on the prospects for farm production, prices and marketings.

Farm output this year will be about 10 per cent above the 1957-59 average, establishing a new record high of $41 billion. With higher farm costs, however, the net may be below 1962's $12.6 billion, and a little lower in 1964.

Along with the commodity forecasts, the Outlook Conference hold four half-day sessions on family living. This year analysts from Agriculture's Bureau of Family Economics and the Bureau of Labor Statistics have come up with new material to show changing trends in consumer budgets.

This is the result of the first survey in 20 years on comparative spending by urban, rural and rural nonfarm families.

Preliminary data indicate average spending by city families has risen from $3,800 in 1950 to $5,365 in 1960.

Food, clothing, housefurnishings and recreation now account for smaller shares of the spending than 10 years ago. Shelter, utilities, medical care, education and transportation take larger shares.

★ ★ ★

Although the consumers' price index, or cost of living, rose 24 per cent in this decade, food expenditures are reported to have dropped from 29 per cent of the family income to 24 per cent.

The reason given is that while per capita consumption of meats has increased, consumption of cereals has declined.

Increased home ownership—from 55 per cent of all dwellings in 1950 to 62 per cent in 1960—and increased ownership of automobiles—from 59 per cent of the families in 1950 to 72 per cent in 1960—account for larger expenditures.

A continuing shift from natural to synthetic fibers is credited with reduction of family clothing expenditures. Lowered prices on household appliances from the Korean war days to 1960 account for another drop.

Food produced for farm-home consumption has dropped from 57 per cent of the retail value in 1941 to 40 per cent in 1960. Reflecting the increase of off-farm employment in rural families, 88 per cent of the rural families owned cars in 1960, and one-fourth of them were two-car families.

If these trends of the last decade or two continue, rural family spending patterns are expected to become much more like those of urban families. The proportion of shelter, transportation, medical care and education expenses will rise. The proportion for home furnishings, clothing and perhaps food will decrease.

As a basis for comparison, this is the budget given for an average family with expenditures of $5,365 in 1960:

Item	Cost	Percentage
Food, at and away from home	$1,300	24.4
Housing and furnishings	$1,590	29.6
Clothing and services	550	10.2
Medical and personal care	500	9.3
Recreation and education	325	6.0
Transportation	790	14.7
Tobacco, Alcohol, miscellaneous	310	5.8

The Doctor Says:

Diabetes Control Essential

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—I am a diabetic and I take tolbutamide. Would diabetes cause me to have trouble concentrating or expressing myself?

The symptoms you complain of are characteristic of the hardening of the arteries of the brain that accompanies advancing age. Diabetes, however may be an indirect cause as it favors the early development of arteriosclerosis throughout the body. This is one more reason for keeping your diabetes under control at all times.

Q—If I keep my diabetes controlled, will I develop cataracts?

A—Both catarcts and retinal disease may be caused by diabetes. Keeping the disease under control helps to prevent these and other complications.

Q—I have been a diabetic for 12 years. When I go out and my date wants to take me some place to eat afterward, should I tell him I am a diabetic or should I just tell him I'm not hungry?

A—How you respond to an invitation to have a snack would depend on how serious you are about your escort. If he means nothing to you, make an excuse and get home early. If you think there is a possibility of marriage, be frank about your condition. Your friend may lose interest but, if so, the less deeply involved you get with him and the sooner you are available to date someone else the better. Lots of diabetics get married.

When a woman with diabetes becomes pregnant her diabetes must be watched closely, because during pregnancy her need for drugs to control the diabetes may increase. There is no reason why, with good care, she should not produce a healthy baby. There is of course, the possibility that the baby will inherit a tendency to develop diabetes.

Q—My doctor says I have low renal threshold for sugar. Does this mean that I will become a diabetic?

A—You are mildly diabetic. You probably can control this with diet alone but you should have a frequent check-up of your urine and your blood for sugar.

Q—Can a diabetic safely take any alcoholic beverages? I have been told there is no sugar in Rhine wine.

A—Before the discovery of insulin, alcohol was used by many diabetics as a quick source of energy in place of the sugar they could not utilize. Alcohol was used in those days to treat diabetic acidosis. We now have better means of treatment. It is true that Rhine wine, dry claret, hock, Moselle, sauterne, dry vermouth and other dry wines contain little or no sugar.

Britons Migrate To South Africa

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) —More than 300 adult British migrants and 180 children sailed for South Africa Wednesday night aboard the 25,500-ton liner Empress of Britain.

It was the largest group ever to migrate from Britain to South Africa. The group included 85 men from the engineering trades, 35 construction men, 8 nurses and 5 architects.

Few of those who spoke to newsmen seemed worried by South Africa's racial troubles.

Control Of Co-ops

The rural electric cooperatives—there are three in the Upper Peninsula — are intensively interested and somewhat apprehensive, no doubt, about a hearing set by the Federal Power Commission for Dec. 10 to determine whether it has limited control over three big electric co-ops.

The electric co-ops maintain that they're already regulated by the Rural Electrification Administration, which has financed them since Congress authorized the REA program in 1935 to electrify marginal rural areas. REA and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, of which REA is an agency, agree that the co-ops are properly regulated under REA without FPC looking at their books.

But FPC argues that the electric co-ops, just like the private power companies operating in interstate commerce, should be under FPC's rate making review if its supervision is going to be fair to all suppliers of electricity. The co-ops reply that such action would give the private utilities a foot in the door on their way to opposing REA loans from the government for new transmission and generation projects. FPC spokesmen say in rebuttal that they're not proposing that they pass on loans to co-ops by REA, but only that the co-ops' wholesale power rates be supervised.

Behind this power struggle is the new stature of the rural electric cooperatives. Starting small and modestly and doing a historic job of electrifying rural areas which the private utilities hadn't served. Some of the co-ops have grown large and expansive. Some of them cross state lines with big transmission networks served by large generating capacity. One of the three big electric co-ops that FPC is inquiring about on Dec. 10 is the Dairyland Power Co-operative of LaCrosse, Wis., which has assets of almost $80 million and customers in four states. Some of the co-ops have invested their surpluses in business enterprises.

The Federal Power Commission's hearing appears a sensible first step in clearing up some uncertainties about the control of electric power. The big co-ops are acquiring public utility character and REA controls appear fuzzy in situations where loan security isn't involved. If the co-ops are reluctant to open their books to the public, it may be because public taxes are making possible the 2 pct. interest rates at which the co-ops can borrow money from REA. If the co-ops don't need that much aid because they're doing so well, it will be of concern to Congress, which has several bills in the hopper to raise this interest rate on REA loans to the co-ops.

An airing of the situation should be healthful. The present setup, born of an effort to aid rural areas modernize, shouldn't be a tool to socialize the electric business by giving the wards of the REA financial advantages over the private utilities which must pay commercial rates for money and commercial taxes to support the government.

Ending Hate

Many Americans already are saying John Fitzgerald Kennedy is "our martyred president." But they differ widely on the nature of his martyrdom.

Even historians may one day define our late president as a martyr and perhaps find many reasons for doing so.

If it is to be thus, we may fairly hope they conclude that, among other things, he was martyred to the cause of a better American spirit. That spirit today is sadly flawed.

The day Kennedy was assassinated, a school teacher made the announcement to her class of 10-year-olds. The children did not exclaim in shocked disbelief. They applauded his death.

It matters not what city and region that school is in. It could have happened in a number of areas.

That it occurred at all is a measure of the stain on the American spirit in 1963.

Many people in this nation are saying that, as a result of John Kennedy's death, we must have done with hating, with spewing out poison, with turning every controversy into mental civil war.

Whole cities are being nearly engulfed by these poisons. On some subjects and in some places, the legitimate discussion which marks a viable democracy is virtually impossible. Argument is warped out of all resemblance to reality.

All of this is utterly foreign to the true spirit of America. This democracy lives by the free choices its people make. How can they make them without discussion of alternatives? How can democracy breathe soundly if the man who raises an alternative is branded "Communist" or "Fascist"?

A nation that has no room for choices cannot have a democracy. Its essence is discussion, negotiation, compromise.

But in the language of the ill in spirit, "negotiation" and "compromise" are evil words. They are seen as devices for the yielding of principle, if not the yielding to a foreign power.

★ ★ ★

In the internal conflicts which flow from this rigid outlook, political adversaries are labeled foreign agents or, at the very least, dupes who unwittingly serve an enemy cause.

These terrible distortions corrode American democracy at its core. It is a freeranging system. It is not meant to be constricted by argument founded on the "you're either for us or against us" theme.

Patience is beginning to run thin in this country with the haters, the distorters, the cheap dispensers of "enemy" labels. None has anything to do with the real America.

If John Fitzgerald Kennedy's death can etch that truth deeply in the now greatly troubled American conscience, then perhaps ws shall never have to hear again of school children applauding the death of a president.

So They Say

I will concede that the right to issue trading stamps was not specifically granted by the Magna Carta. — William S. Beinecke, president of British S&H Stamp Co.

If we are not able to prevent a third world war, we shall go down in history—if history should survive—as the guilty generation.—U. N. Secretary General U Thant.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Increased consumer expenditures for 1963, continuing well into 1964, are predicted by the latest reports from U. S. Departments of Commerce, Agriculture and Labor.

Since consumer purchases account for two-thirds of the total sales of goods and services in the United States, these forecasts give a good indication of business trends.

For the six months immediately ahead, the Department of Commerce reports high consumer buying intentions on autos, houses and household appliances, the so-called hard goods.

Reporting a record personal income at the annual rate of $470 billion for October, the Department of Commerce credits the recent pay raise granted U. S. armed forces for one-third of the $3 billion increase over September.

The increase over October 1962 is 5 per cent, or $22 billion. Another 5 per cent increase is predicted for 1964. All this adds to purchasing power, so it is a direct stimulus to the economy.

★ ★ ★

Principal focus of the Department of Agriculture's Outlook Conference, held at this time every year, is on the prospects for farm production, prices and marketings.

Farm output this year will be about 10 per cent above the 1957-59 average, establishing a new record high of $41 billion. With higher farm costs, however, the net may be below 1962's $12.6 billion, and a little lower in 1964.

Along with the commodity forecasts, the Outlook Conference hold four half-day sessions on family living. This year analysts from Agriculture's Bureau of Family Economics and the Bureau of Labor Statistics have come up with new material to show changing trends in consumer budgets.

This is the result of the first survey in 20 years on comparative spending by urban, rural and rural nonfarm families.

Preliminary data indicate average spending by city families has risen from $3,800 in 1950 to $5,365 in 1960.

Food, clothing, housefurnishings and recreation now account for smaller shares of the spending than 10 years ago. Shelter, utilities, medical care, education and transportation take larger shares.

★ ★ ★

Although the consumers' price index, or cost of living, rose 24 per cent in this decade, food expenditures are reported to have dropped from 29 per cent of the family income to 24 per cent.

The reason given is that while per capita consumption of meats has increased, consumption of cereals has declined.

Increased home ownership—from 55 per cent of all dwellings in 1950 to 62 per cent in 1960—and increased ownership of automobiles—from 59 per cent of the families in 1950 to 72 per cent in 1960—account for larger expenditures.

A continuing shift from natural to synthetic fibers is credited with reduction of family clothing expenditures. Lowered prices on household appliances from the Korean war days to 1960 account for another drop.

Food produced for farm-home consumption has dropped from 57 per cent of the retail value in 1941 to 40 per cent in 1960. Reflecting the increase of off-farm employment in rural families, 88 per cent of the rural families owned cars in 1960, and one-fourth of them were two-car families.

If these trends of the last decade or two continue, rural family spending patterns are expected to become much more like those of urban families. The proportion of shelter, transportation, medical care and education expenses will rise. The proportion for home furnishings, clothing and perhaps food will decrease.

As a basis for comparison, this is the budget given for an average family with expenditures of $5,365 in 1960:

Item	Cost	Percentage
Food, at and away from home	$1,300	24.4
Housing and furnishings	$1,590	29.6
Clothing and services	550	10.2
Medical and personal care	500	9.3
Recreation and education	325	6.0
Transportation	790	14.7
Tobacco, Alcohol, miscellaneous	310	5.8

The Doctor Says:

Diabetes Control Essential

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—I am a diabetic and I take tolbutamide. Would diabetes cause me to have trouble concentrating or expressing myself?

The symptoms you complain of are characteristic of the hardening of the arteries of the brain that accompanies advancing age. Diabetes, however may be an indirect cause as it favors the early development of arteriosclerosis throughout the body. This is one more reason for keeping your diabetes under control at all times.

Q—If I keep my diabetes controlled, will I develop cataracts?

A—Both cataracts and retinal disease may be caused by diabetes. Keeping the disease under control helps to prevent these and other complications.

Q—I have been a diabetic for 12 years. When I go out and my date wants to take me some place to eat afterward, should I tell him I am a diabetic or should I just tell him I'm not hungry?

A—How you respond to an invitation to have a snack would depend on how serious you are about your escort. If he means nothing to you, make an excuse and get home early. If you think there is a possibility of marriage, be frank about your condition. Your friend may lose interest but, if so, the less deeply involved you get with him and the sooner you are available to date someone else the better. Lots of diabetics get married.

When a woman with diabetes becomes pregnant her diabetes must be watched closely, because during pregnancy her need for drugs to control the diabetes may increase. There is no reason why, with good care, she should not produce a healthy baby. There is of course, the possibility that the baby will inherit a tendency to develop diabetes.

Q—My doctor says I have low renal threshold for sugar. Does this mean that I will become a diabetic?

A—You are mildly diabetic. You probably can control this with diet alone but you should have a frequent check-up of your urine and your blood for sugar.

Q—Can a diabetic safely take any alcoholic beverages? I have been told there is no sugar in Rhine wine.

A—Before the discovery of insulin, alcohol was used by many diabetics as a quick source of energy in place of the sugar they could not utilize. Alcohol was used in those days to treat diabetic acidosis. We now have better means of treatment. It is true that Rhine wine, dry claret, hock, Moselle, sauterne, dry vermouth and other dry wines contain little or no sugar.

Britons Migrate To South Africa

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) —More than 300 adult British migrants and 180 children sailed for South Africa Wednesday night aboard the 25,500-ton liner Empress of Britain.

It was the largest group ever to migrate from Britain to South Africa. The group included 85 men from the engineering trades, 35 construction men, 8 nurses and 5 architects.

Few of those who spoke to newsmen seemed worried by South Africa's racial troubles.

DOWN COMES the last of four brick chimneys of the old Franklin School on Wednesday as Rudzinski Brothers of Oconto, the wreckers, neared completion of their razing work to clear the site. A cable sawed through the masonry and down came the 60-foot high stack in a crumble of bricks and mortar which Escanaba Daily Press Photographer Bernard Schultz has caught here in mid-collapse. (Daily Press Photo)

Michigan Bids For 50 Million NASA Center

LANSING (AP)—Gov George Romney has joined the drive by Michigan educational and industrial leaders to try to obtain a proposed $50 million electronics center for the state

Romney wrote presidents and officials of Michigan manufacturing plants and utilities noting that initial steps to obtain the National Aeronautics and Space Administration electronics center have been taken by Dr Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan

He asked all interested groups to push the project and emphasize the present capabilities and growing electronics potential in Michigan

The Michigan group is expected to make its presentation in Washington in mid-December

Old Franklin's Chimneys Down

The late Jens Jensen, famed landscape architect of Ellison Bay on the Door County Peninsula, returned to his home there one evening to find it burned. The great stone chimneys stood boldly silhouetted against the night sky and Jensen said: "It's more beautiful than before the fire!"

There may have been no such reaction to the razing of the 81-year-old Franklin School in Escanaba, but certainly the four great brick chimneys of the structure, which were the last things leveled by the wreckers, drew a great deal of comment from passers-by in the last days of the wrecking.

The site is being cleared for a new Franklin School, on which bonds will be voted in a special election Dec. 16. The old building was closed to school use because it was no longer safe.

Many of the persons who saw the great chimneys standing free and tall without support after the rest of the big building had been razed commented upon the sturdiness of the construction, but a little tug with a light tractor on a cable and down came the tons of masonry in the last chimney at dusk Wednesday.

A close look at the chimney revealed that despite modernity's respect for old craftsmanship, the chimney has been erected by masons who slapped it together casually until they got above the roofline. Then they used their level and were precise and impressive. Their work was then on view and they made it good.

The old building, constructed in 1882, served Escanaba as a high school until 1906 when the building which now houses the Bay de Noc Community College was constructed.

Nevin Reynolds, watching the last of the Franklin building taken down, said "There were many times I wished I could have done that when I went to school there."

Franklin School children, now attending school elsewhere, were deposited by a bus and lined the fence to watch the last chimney come down yesterday. Planks salvaged from the building which were piled in the schoolyard had square nails in them. The building had served nearly three generations of Escanabans.

The building which will replace it will be on one floor. If it lasts as long as the old building it won't be taken down until the year 2045.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The Storyteller told how Nog, the Bugaboo, made a shambles of Santa Land and how Santa decided he couldn't keep him there any longer.

CHAPTER FOUR
NOG COMES TO POO

The Storyteller stood up and stretched his legs. He stared for a long time into the fire as if he had forgotten the story he was telling. The children waited until golden - haired Sissy could stand it no longer.

"What did the Queen Fairy and Santa do with him?" she cried. "What did they do with old bad Nog?"

"They threw him out of Fairyland," said the Storyteller staring into the fire.

"Oh, my!" breathed Miss Jo. "That must have been Awful!"

Yes, said the Storyteller. It had never been done before. No elf or fiend or witch or any other fairy creature had ever been expelled from the Magic Land of Make Believe. And Nog did not think the Fairy Queen would have the courage to do it to him.

But Santa said to the Queen, "You must send him out of our world, take away all his rights and forbid him ever again to enter Storybook Land."

"You can't do that!" shouted Nog.

"But I can," said the Queen, for she knew she had to or this one wicked creature would destroy all the good that fairies had done since time began. She waved her wand and said sadly, "I hereby expel you from my kingdom. Leave here and never return."

Nog turned on Santa and waved his fists. "It's all your doing!" he cried. "She would never have done it if it hadn't been for you!"

"It's your own doing," said Santa. "And perhaps you will be happier in another world."

"THIS is my world," shouted Nog. And I'll be back one day and I, not you, will give the orders then. Mark my words!"

He stamped his foot three times to show his rage. Then he turned and marched away.

"Where did he go?" cried Miss Jo.

The Storyteller turned and stared at her as if he had just awakened from a long sleep. "What?" he asked.

"Where did Nog go?" cried Sissy and Jeremy together.

"To the Kingdom of Poo," said the Storyteller

"POO!" cried Jeremy.

"THIS Poo?" exclaimed Sissy.

The Storyteller nodded. "The very same."

"He's here now?" gasped Sissy.

The Storyteller nodded again.

The children huddled at his feet. Suddenly they felt cold and a shiver passed through them all.

Then Jeremy laughed and said, "But, it's only a story!" He took Miss Jo's hand and said, "Stop shaking. It's a story." Miss Jo laughed weakly and Sissy laughed and Jeremy said to the Storyteller, "Go on with the story."

Well, went on the Storyteller, Nog had left Santa Land and roamed all over the world looking for a place to settle. He was looking for a very special place because he thought of nothing but revenge and he needed time and room and privacy to work out his plans.

Finally he came to the Kingdof of Poo. The people here were business-like and practical and they didn't bother much about spooks or magic or things like that. In fact, a lot of people in Poo didn't even believe in Santa Claus. This suited Nog just fine because what would such people care if someone they didn't believe in just stopped being?

Nog walked around Poo until he found a beaten-up, old house on Burning Tree Road. No one had lived in it for a hundred years. The doors were falling off and the roof was caved in and the front steps had crumbled away.

Nog moved into the house. To keep people away he hung a sign out front saying "This House is Haunted."

And it was, too.

Tomorrow: The Haunted House

"I hereby expel you from my kingdom."

Only Property Owners To Vote

Only owners of property, real estate or personal, assessed for taxes within the Escanaba Area Public Schools district may vote on the proposed bond issue to finance construction of a new Franklin school building.

School Supt. Walter Bright directed attention to the state constitution provision which restricts voting on bond issues to electors who have property assessed for taxes in any part of the district, or the husbands or wives of such persons.

The election is to be held Dec. 16 in the Area School District composed of the City of Escanaba and the Townships of Wells, Ford River and Cornell. The 81 - year - old Franklin building was razed because it was unsafe, and the proposal is to construct nine classroom plus multi-purpose room building to replace it.

"Property assessed for taxes" refers to property on the township or city tax roll within the boundaries of the school district. Persons are considered to "have property" within the meaning of the statute in the following cases:

A person purchasing under a land contract. A holder of a life estate in a real property assessed for taxes. The heir-at-law of real property assessed for taxes where the deceased has left no will. The owner of assessed personal property. The holder of a partnership interest in property, even where the property is assessed in the name of another partner, or in a partnership name.

Payment of fees or license, such as dog license tax, auto license fee, or sales tax do not entitle a person to vote on the question of bonding.

Pride Issuing Carpenter Call

Project Pride members lunching Thursday at Marco's asked carpenters to volunteer labor to get the Delta County School for Retarded Children enclosed so that work can proceed in the winter months.

Contractor Al Brandt of Project Pride asked carpenters to report at the school site on the Webster School campus at 8 a. m. Saturday to finish the building cornice so that the roof can be completed, and to set windows and doors.

With these labors completed, said Brandt, the building can be enclosed and it will be heated and pushed to completion with inside work.

Project Pride is constructing the school building with volunteer labor for the Delta County Chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, P. O. Box 157, Escanaba, which is continuing a gift campaign to finance it.

The school building is now 85 per cent completed and with the deer hunt over and more skilled construction crafts workers available, said Brandt it is planned to resume active construction.

Project Pride had Don Ness, glazier, as its luncheon guest.

Wife Suffocates

FRANKFORT (AP) — Ruth Ann Dobson, 18 - year - old wife of a Great Lakes seaman, suffocated Thursday in a fire at her trailer home in nearby Crystal Lake Township. Benzie County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Dobson's body was discovered by a relative.

Cheer Basket Appeal Made

Do you know a family in need? A family whose Christmas would be made more enjoyable by the gift of a Christmas basket?

If you do, the Salvation Army is asking that you submit their names before Thursday, Dec. 19.

"Names of those in need may be turned in to the Salvation Army at 112 N. 15th St.," said Capt. Orville Butts. "When submitting the name, it is important to list the sex and age of each child to assist in choosing toys for each one. The information should be writen plainly or printed."

The telephone number of thte Salvation Army Christmas Headquarters is ST6-0282.

"Our hope is that everyone will join hands with the Salvation Army in a united effort to help the less fortunate people in our community," said Capt. Butts.

Appeal letters have been mailed and the Salvation Army Christmas kettle has been set up at Ludington and 11th St. to receive contributions needed to bring holiday cheer to those in less favored homes this Christmas.

DOWN COMES the last of four brick chimneys of the old Franklin School on Wednesday as Rudzinski Brothers of Oconto, the wreckers, neared completion of their razing work to clear the site. A cable sawed through the masonry and down came the 60-foot high stack in a crumble of bricks and mortar which Escanaba Daily Press Photographer Bernard Schultz has caught here in mid-collapse. Michigan Bids For 50 Million NASA Center

LANSING (AP)—Gov George Romney has joined the drive by Michigan educational and industrial leaders to try to obtain a proposed $50 million electronics center for the state

Romney wrote presidents and officials of Michigan manufacturing plants and utilities noting that initial steps to obtain the National Aeronautics and Space Administration electronics center have been taken by Dr Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan

He asked all interested groups to push the project and emphasize the present capabilities and growing electronics potential in Michigan

Old Franklin's Chimneys Down

The late Jens Jensen, famed landscape architect of Ellison Bay on the Door County Peninsula, returned to his home there one evening to find it burned. The great stone chimneys stood boldly silhouetted against the night sky and Jensen said: "It's more beautiful than before the fire!"

There may have been no such reaction to the razing of the 81-year-old Franklin School in Escanaba, but certainly the four great brick chimneys of the structure, which were the last things leveled by the wreckers, drew a great deal of comment from passers-by in the last days of the wrecking.

The site is being cleared for a new Franklin School, on which bonds will be voted in a special election Dec. 16. The old building was closed to school use because it was no longer safe.

Many of the persons who saw the great chimneys standing free and tall without support after the rest of the big building had been razed commented upon the sturdiness of the construction, but a little tug with a light tractor on a cable and down came the tons of masonry in the last chimney at dusk Wednesday.

A close look at the chimney revealed that despite modernity's respect for old craftsmanship, the chimney has been erected by masons who slapped it together casually until they got above the roofline. Then they used their level and were precise and impressive. Their work was then on view and they made it good.

The old building, constructed in 1882, served Escanaba as a high school until 1906 when the building which now houses the Bay de Noc Community College was constructed.

Nevin Reynolds, watching the last of the Franklin building taken down, said "There were many times I wished I could have done that when I went to school there."

Franklin School children, now attending school elsewhere, were deposited by a bus and lined the fence to watch the last chimney come down yesterday. Planks salvaged from the building which were piled in the schoolyard had square nails in them. The building had served nearly three generations of Escanabans.

The building which will replace it will be on one floor. If it lasts as long as the old building it won't be taken down until the year 2045.

Only Property Owners To Vote

Only owners of property, real estate or personal, assessed for taxes within the Escanaba Area Public Schools district may vote on the proposed bond issue to finance construction of a new Franklin school building.

School Supt. Walter Bright directed attention to the state constitution provision which restricts voting on bond issues to electors who have property assessed for taxes in any part of the district, or the husbands or wives of such persons.

The election is to be held Dec. 16 in the Area School District composed of the City of Escanaba and the Townships of Wells, Ford River and Cornell. The 81 - year - old Franklin building was razed because it was unsafe, and the proposal is to construct nine classroom plus multi-purpose room building to replace it.

"Property assessed for taxes" refers to property on the township or city tax roll within the boundaries of the school district. Persons are considered to "have property" within the meaning of the statute in the following cases:

A person purchasing under a land contract. A holder of a life estate in a real property assessed for taxes. The heir-at-law of real property assessed for taxes where the deceased has left no will. The owner of assessed personal property. The holder of a partnership interest in property, even where the property is assessed in the name of another partner, or in a partnership name.

Payment of fees or license, such as dog license tax, auto license fee, or sales tax do not entitle a person to vote on the question of bonding.

Pride Issuing Carpenter Call

Project Pride members lunching Thursday at Marco's asked carpenters to volunteer labor to get the Delta County School for Retarded Children enclosed so that work can proceed in the winter months.

Contractor Al Brandt of Project Pride asked carpenters to report at the school site on the Webster School campus at 8 a. m. Saturday to finish the building cornice so that the roof can be completed, and to set windows and doors.

With these labors completed, said Brandt, the building can be enclosed and it will be heated and pushed to completion with inside work.

Project Pride is constructing the school building with volunteer labor for the Delta County Chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, P. O. Box 157, Escanaba, which is continuing a gift campaign to finance it.

The school building is now 85 per cent completed and with the deer hunt over and more skilled construction crafts workers available, said Brandt it is planned to resume active construction.

Project Pride had Don Ness, glazier, as its luncheon guest.

Wife Suffocates

FRANKFORT (AP) — Ruth Ann Dobson, 18 - year - old wife of a Great Lakes seaman, suffocated Thursday in a fire at her trailer home in nearby Crystal Lake Township. Benzie County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Dobson's body was discovered by a relative.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The Storyteller told how Nog, the Bugaboo, made a shambles of Santa Land and how Santa decided he couldn't keep him there any longer.

CHAPTER FOUR
NOG COMES TO POO

The Storyteller stood up and stretched his legs. He stared for a long time into the fire as if he had forgotten the story he was telling. The children waited until golden - haired Sissy could stand it no longer.

"What did the Queen Fairy and Santa do with him?" she cried. "What did they do with old bad Nog?"

"They threw him out of Fairyland," said the Storyteller staring into the fire.

"Oh, my!" breathed Miss Jo. "That must have been Awful!"

Yes, said the Storyteller. It had never been done before. No elf or fiend or witch or any other fairy creature had ever been expelled from the Magic Land of Make Believe. And Nog did not think the Fairy Queen would have the courage to do it to him.

But Santa said to the Queen, "You must send him out of our world, take away all his rights and forbid him ever again to enter Storybook Land."

"You can't do that!" shouted Nog.

"But I can," said the Queen, for she knew she had to or this one wicked creature would destroy all the good that fairies had done since time began. She waved her wand and said sadly, "I hereby expel you from my kingdom. Leave here and never return."

Nog turned on Santa and waved his fists. "It's all your doing!" he cried. "She would never have done it if it hadn't been for you!"

"It's your own doing," said Santa. "And perhaps you will be happier in another world."

"THIS is my world," shouted Nog. And I'll be back one day and I, not you, will give the orders then. Mark my words!"

He stamped his foot three times to show his rage. Then he turned and marched away.

"Where did he go?" cried Miss Jo.

The Storyteller turned and stared at her as if he had just awakened from a long sleep. "What?" he asked.

"Where did Nog go?" cried Sissy and Jeremy together.

"To the Kingdom of Poo," said the Storyteller

"POO!" cried Jeremy.

"THIS Poo?" exclaimed Sissy.

The Storyteller nodded. "The very same."

"He's here now?" gasped Sissy.

The Storyteller nodded again.

The children huddled at his feet. Suddenly they felt cold and a shiver passed through them all.

Then Jeremy laughed and said, "But, it's only a story!" He took Miss Jo's hand and said, "Stop shaking. It's a story." Miss Jo laughed weakly and Sissy laughed and Jeremy said to the Storyteller, "Go on with the story."

Well, went on the Storyteller, Nog had left Santa Land and roamed all over the world looking for a place to settle. He was looking for a very special place because he thought of nothing but revenge and he needed time and room and privacy to work out his plans.

Finally he came to the Kingdof of Poo. The people here were business-like and practical and they didn't bother much about spooks or magic or things like that. In fact, a lot of people in Poo didn't even believe in Santa Claus. This suited Nog just fine because what would such people care if someone they didn't believe in just stopped being?

Nog walked around Poo until he found a beaten-up, old house on Burning Tree Road. No one had lived in it for a hundred years. The doors were falling off and the roof was caved in and the front steps had crumbled away.

Nog moved into the house. To keep people away he hung a sign out front saying "This House is Haunted."

And it was, too.

Tomorrow: The Haunted House

"I hereby expel you from my kingdom."

Cheer Basket Appeal Made

Do you know a family in need? A family whose Christmas would be made more enjoyable by the gift of a Christmas basket?

If you do, the Salvation Army is asking that you submit their names before Thursday, Dec. 19.

"Names of those in need may be turned in to the Salvation Army at 112 N. 15th St.," said Capt. Orville Butts. "When submitting the name, it is important to list the sex and age of each child to assist in choosing toys for each one. The information should be writen plainly or printed."

The telephone number of thte Salvation Army Christmas Headquarters is ST6-0282.

"Our hope is that everyone will join hands with the Salvation Army in a united effort to help the less fortunate people in our community," said Capt. Butts.

Appeal letters have been mailed and the Salvation Army Christmas kettle has been set up at Ludington and 11th St. to receive contributions needed to bring holiday cheer to those in less favored homes this Christmas.

Ann Landers

Son Gets Jail

Dear Ann Landers: I will remember this day as long as I live. Today they came and took my beloved 19-year-old son to jail. As I sank into a chair, stunned and bewildered, my eyes fell on your column in today's paper.

The first letter was from a mother who signed her self "Frantic." She was writing about her 14-year-old daughter who was completely out of control. Well, the reason my son went to jail is because another mother let HER 14-year-old daughter run wild. This girl did not have to be home at any specific hour. She could go out with anyone, any age, anywhere.

When I learned my son was dating a 14-year-old girl I phoned her mother and begged her to keep this over-sexed child at home. I was told she had always been a problem, and that they could do nothing with her.

When the girl became pregnant my son was charged with carnal knowledge and found guilty.

So please, Ann, advise parents who can't control their daughters to send them to detention homes so the boys will be safe. — HEARTBROKEN

Dear Heartbroken: I would like to remind you and all mothers of sons that there will always be sex-pots around — girls who are not only willing, but aggressively seeking male attention.

If mothers raise their sons to respect their maleness and to respect womanhood, and if they are taught that the human body has a higher purpose and is not a plaything, there will be no need to worry about a son being dragged off to jail for immoral conduct.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: A very good friend of mine is a great talker. She can report a trivial incident and can make it sound like the most earth-moving epic of all times. In the middle of her dramatic presentation she invariably becomes snagged on a minor detail. Sample: "And then on Tuesday — or was it Wednesday — no, I think it was Tuesday because Tuesday is the day Molly comes at 9 a. m. No it WAS Monday and not Tuesday. I remember clearly now — or was it Friday?" Ey then, of course, I've lost interest in what she was saying.

Why do people do this? Don't they realize it doesn't matter an iota to the listener whether it was Monday, Tuesday or Sunday? Please shed a little light. — GNASHED TEETH

Dear Teeth: Of course this sort of self-interruption ruins a story but it's strange that so many people are addicted to the habit. They are actually trying to settle the point to their own satisfaction. Unfortunately, it's the listener who suffers.

Dear Ann Landers: A standing ovation for Bennie. He is the 14-year-old boy who has learned the most important lesson of life — self-discipline.

I saw one boy go from bad to worse, even with the best guidance. Why? Because he wallowed in self-pity. He was told he had a miserable childhood, stupid parents and was not taught the proper values. It never occurred to the boy that he could teach himself anything.

I know of another young person who had a far more turbulent life. He lived in orphanages, went through juvenile courts — even jail. This boy will soon be getting his high school diploma through the mails. Then he plans to go to college. He holds a job and is making his way with no outside financial help.

I hope Bennie and other young people will continue to teach themselves the things they failed to learn from their parents. I concede, of course, that it's not so easy as blaming the world for our failures but it is immensely rewarding.—D. E. S.

Dear D. E. S.: Thank you for reminding us that if we don't like what we are, we can do something about it. And we can start the "Better Me" program by accepting responsibility for ourselves.

Son Of Justice Warren Named To $18,400 Job

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Earl Warren Jr., son of the chief justice of the United States, was appointed deputy director of the Chile-California program of the Alliance for Progress by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The post pays $18,400 a year.

Warren, 30-year-old Sacramento attorney, campaigned for Brown, a Democrat, last year against Republican Richard M. Nixon. Warren's father is a former Republican governor of California.

The Chile-California program involves technical cooperation between Chile and the state.

Comedy Trend Sighted On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television circle turns, and all the signs indicate that programming is moving toward a new period of emphasis on light escape entertainment.

"A few seasons ago we were in the beach-boy phase," said Daniel Melnick, partner of David Susskind in the producing company, Talent Associates. "That was the heyday of the 'Hawaiian Eyes,' the 'Surfside Sixes' and 'Adventures in Paradise.'"

It was followed by what Melnick calls "the neo-realism" phase, which he thinks got a foothold with the old half-hour "Naked City" programs and then moved on to peak out this season with the freshet of social dramas — "The Defenders," "East Side, West Side," "Mr. Novak," and the medical and psychiatry shows.

"Now we've got to move and it probably will be to themes combining the romantic with comedy," Melnick said. "We would probably have moved to it sooner, but the big problem of television is that we have a tendency to hold on too long to something that has proved popular."

Entertainment programs age rapidly, but at a rate that depends on the quality of the writing and on the style and interest of the leading man, Melnick, 33, said. Generally, the active life of a dramatic show is about three seasons; of a comedy, four.

CBS, notable for its lack of enthusiasm for color broadcasting, will use it this year—as NBC has done every year—to cover the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day.

Gogebic County Emergency Area

LANSING AP — Designation of Gogebic County as an emergency area for the livestock feed program has been requested of Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman by Gov. George Romney.

The action would allow livestock owners to purchase feed from Commodity Credit Corporation for 75 per cent of current support prices.

Christmas Card Paintings Given By Mrs. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—A growing trend in Christmas cards painted by artists of renown and sold for the benefit of charitable or cultural projects has a new and distinguished contributor.

She signs her paintings, "JBK," for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy.

Two cards bearing reproductions of Mrs. Kennedy's paintings are being distributed by Hallmark Cards, Inc. Net proceeds will go to the proposed National Cultural Center in Washington.

Mrs. Kennedy had suggested several months ago that she design the cards for the benefit of the center. A bill has been introduced in Congress to name the center for her husband, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy's cards are reproductions of original water colors she completed earlier this year. "The Journey of the Magi" depicts the three Wise Men on their way to Jerusalem. "Glad Tidings" portrays an angel heralding the birth of Jesus.

Romney Backs Railway Ferry

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney requested that "everything possible" be done to assure continuation of rail car ferry service across the Straits of Mackinac.

He said Mackinac Transportation Co. Intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue the service between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City.

Romney said a yearly average of more than 7,000 cars crosses the straits annually and said "this in itself would have considerable economic impact on some industries in the northern part of the state.

"In addition," granting of this discontinuance likely would lead to petitions to abandon other existing rail services in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula because of the reduction of freight volume which the interruption of the straits service would involve" he said.

He said he has asked "pertinent state agencies to do everything possible to assure the service continues.

Comedy Trend Sighted On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television circle turns, and all the signs indicate that programming is moving toward a new period of emphasis on light escape entertainment.

"A few seasons ago we were in the beach-boy phase," said Daniel Melnick, partner of David Susskind in the producing company, Talent Associates. "That was the heyday of the 'Hawaiian Eyes,' the 'Surfside Sixes' and 'Adventures in Paradise.'"

It was followed by what Melnick calls "the neo-realism" phase, which he thinks got a foothold with the old half-hour "Naked City" programs and then moved on to peak out this season with the freshet of social dramas — "The Defenders," "East Side, West Side," "Mr. Novak," and the medical and psychiatry shows.

"Now we've got to move and it probably will be to themes combining the romantic with comedy," Melnick said. "We would probably have moved to it sooner, but the big problem of television is that we have a tendency to hold on too long to something that has proved popular."

Entertainment programs age rapidly, but at a rate that depends on the quality of the writing and on the style and interest of the leading man, Melnick, 33, said. Generally, the active life of a dramatic show is about three seasons; of a comedy, four.

CBS, notable for its lack of enthusiasm for color broadcasting, will use it this year—as NBC has done every year—to cover the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day.

Gogebic County Emergency Area

LANSING AP — Designation of Gogebic County as an emergency area for the livestock feed program has been requested of Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman by Gov. George Romney.

The action would allow livestock owners to purchase feed from Commodity Credit Corporation for 75 per cent of current support prices.

Christmas Card Paintings Given By Mrs. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—A growing trend in Christmas cards painted by artists of renown and sold for the benefit of chaitable or cultural projects has a new and distinguished contributor.

She signs her paintings, "JBK," for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy.

Two cards bearing reproductions of Mrs. Kennedy's paintings are being distributed by Hallmark Cards, Inc. Net proceeds will go to the proposed National Cultural Center in Washington.

Mrs. Kennedy had suggested several months ago that she design the cards for the benefit of the center. A bill has been introduced in Congress to name the center for her husband, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy's cards are reproductions of original water colors she completed earlier this year. "The Journey of the Magi" depicts the three Wise Men on their way to Jerusalem. "Glad Tidings" portrays an angel heralding the birth of Jesus.

Romney Backs Railway Ferry

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney requested that "everything possible" be done to assure continuation of rail car ferry service across the Straits of Mackinac.

He said Mackinac Transportation Co. Intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue the service between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City.

Romney said a yearly average of more than 7,000 cars crosses the straits annually and said "this in itself would have considerable economic impact on some industries in the northern part of the state.

"In addition," granting of this discontinuance likely would lead to petitions to abandon other existing rail services in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula because of the reduction of freight volume which the interruption of the straits service would involve" he said.

He said he has asked "pertinent state agencies to do everything possible to assure the service continues.

Judy Petersen Is Honored At Bridal Shower

Miss Judy Petersen, bride-elect, was honored at a surprise bridal shower Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard McHenry. Hostesses were Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Jay Krogdahl. Colorful Christmas decorations formed the setting for the party.

Prizes were won by Sally Hanson, Mrs. Ron Dewe, Joan Stoneclift and Mrs. Ronald Shiner. The guest prize was presented to Mrs. Jack L. Shiner.

Miss Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Petersen, 1804 5th Ave. S., will become the bride of Jack Ralph Shiner in a Dec. 21 ceremony.

Dinner Sunday At St. Anthony's

St. Anthony's parish of Wells is serving its annual spaghetti dinner Sunday, Dec. 8, in the church basement from noon until 8 p. m. A Christmas Fair will be held at the same time with many handmade gifts for patrons. The public is invited.

When you rub the inside and outside surface of a duck (for roasting) with salt and pepper, add a pinch or two of dry mustard.

THE FORMER Barbara Lois Brandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brandt, became the bride of Claude E. Rose in a Nov. 9 ceremony at Christ the King Lutheran Church in Escanaba. The newlyweds now are at home at 316 1st Ave. S. (Lee's Studio)

Births

McGOVERN—Mr. and Mrs. James F. McGovern, 311½ S. 17th St., welcomed their first child Dec. 3, a son, Mark Francis, born at 2:18 a. m. at St. Francis Hospital. The infant weighed 8 pounds and 8 ounces. Mrs. McGovern is the former Betty Myrsten.

Trenary

Work Bee

Work-bees will be held at the ski hill Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 7 and 8 for all who would like to help.

Guild Party

The Ladies Guild of the First Lutheran church will have a Christmas party Monday, Dec. 9, at 8 p. m. at the church. A gift exchange will be followed by pot-luck lunch.

K. Of C. Plans Holiday Parties Sunday, Monday

The Escanaba Council 640, Knights of Columbus, will hold ist annual children's and member's Christmas parties as usual again this year.

The children's Christmas party will be held at the Council clubrooms in the Sherman Hotel building, 708 Ludington St., Sunday, Dec. 8 from 2 to 4 p. m. Movies will be shown and all children in attendance will receive a gift of candy from Santa. All children, grandchildren and friends of members are invited to attend the party Sunday afternoon.

On Monday, Dec. 9, a short meeting of the Council will be held at 8 p. m., in the residence of Council 640's Chaplain Fr. Norbert Freiburger. The ladies are asked to meet in St. Anthony's Church Hall at 8 p. m., where entertainment will be furnished while the Council meeting is in progress.

Following the meeting the Christmas party will be held in the church hall with a dollar gift being exchanged among the ladies. Refreshments and lunch will be served with Donald Crawford in charge of arrangements assisted by Mrs. Edward Sayklly.

Fairbanks PTA Holds Meeting

GARDEN PENINSULA — Fairbanks Parent-Teacher Association had its December meeting at the Mud Lake School Tuesday night. During a short business session conducted by president Carl Van Remortel, the need of a new stove for the school kitchen was discussed. Mrs. Eugene Bernier, Mrs. Robert Watchorn, and Mrs. Henry Jacobsen, teachers, announced that Christmas programs were scheduled for Mud Lake School on Wednesday, Dec. 18, and Fairport School on Thursday, Dec. 19. A social hour followed the business meeting with an exchange of Christmas gifts and games. Prizes were won by Mrs. Cletus Rochefort, Mrs. William Thill, Glen Thill and Carl Van Remortel. A potluck lunch ended the activities.

Escanaba River Unit 115, American Legion Auxiliary, held a regular meeting Wednesday at Flat Rock Town Hall with Mrs. Gerri Harrison, president, in charge.

Three members of the Unit will go to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iron Mountain Dec. 11 to work in the Gift Shop. They are rehabilitation chairman, Mary Thomas, Mildred Anderson and Mrs. Harrison. A report was given by Mrs. Thompson on the gifts she purchased and sent to the VA Hospital. Two Gold Star Mothers were taken into the unit, Mrs. Emily Barron and Mrs. Walter Pinar, both of Gladstone Rte. 1.

All members of the Post and Unit are invited to attend the Christmas party to be held Dec. 14 at 8 p. m. at Flat Rock Town Hall. Members will exchange gifts and a buffet supper will be served by the Auxiliary.

The Post will sponsor a Christmas party Sunday, Dec. 15, at 2 p. m. for the children. This party also will be at the Town Hall.

The Auxiliary is planning a pre-New Year's Eve dance for teen-agers Dec. 27 at the hall with music by the Rhythm Rockers.

Lunch was served after the meeting by Jean Rose and Mildred Anderson. Guest prize went to Myron Jackson. The next meeting will be held Jan. 8.

With Our Women

Mildred Larsen

Where Mrs. Marvin L. (Mildred A.) Larsen of Gladstone finds the time and energy she devotes to a multitude of activities is something that no one will ever know.

She, herself says, "I have done nothing of great importance," but she had packed into her years so far, contributions to her community that a dozen or more residents would be hard put to equal.

Mildred Larsen, who is a housewife and a store clerk, lives at 519 Minneapolis Ave. in Gladstone. She was born in that city July 10, 1912, a daughter of the Z. Paul Cornells, graduated from Gladstone High School in 1929 and attended the University of Washington at Seattle in 1943-44.

She was most interested in Forensics, debate and music during her high school years, and was a cheerleader in 1928-29, but her activities in college were curtailed as she was teaching part time.

She was married to Marvin Larsen of Escanaba in Gladstone Sept. 6, 1933 and they have one son, David, who is in his senior year at Northern Michigan University.

"Into Depression"

"I was graduated into the Depression," Mrs. Larsen said, "and having an older sister at Northern I worked evenings at the Rialto Theatre and daytime was a Cadet in the Gladstone kindergarten until I was married. During the war years we were living at Rhinelander, Wis., but we moved to Kirkland, Wash., where Marvin was employed at Lake Washington shipyards. We enrolled David in a Nursery School and I taught kindergarten in the mornings and attended classes at the University in the afternoons and on Saturdays. We returned to Gladstone in December of 1945 for my parents' golden wedding celebration and never returned to Washington.

"We owned and operated the A. & W. Drive-In at Gladstone from 1947 to 1960 and in 1959 we started our Ben Franklin Store where I work now as a clerk and enjoy every minute of it. I was chosen Gladstone's "Hostess" for Michigan Week this year, and was chairman of Gladstone's Mothers' March on Polio for several successful seasons, credit for which really goes to a fine group of workers and generous citizens."

Many Activities

Mrs. Larsen's other community activities include serving as Sunday School teacher and superintendent of the Primary Department of Memorial Methodist Church. She is a member of the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Evening Service Guild, the Child's Welfare Club, the Coterie and the Order of the Eastern Star of which she is a Past Matron and a Past Grand Committee Women. She is a past president of the Gladstone Parent Teacher Association.

With al tlhis, she has her own particular hobbies, and enjoys sharing them with others. She makes decorations for all occasions for churches and organizations, has had Easter eggs on display in Escanaba on two occasions and has taught classes in Christmas decorations for the home under Gladstone's Adult Education program. She also knits and enjoys reading.

Past Matrons Party Dec. 11

Past Matrons of R. C. Hatheway Chapter 49, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet at the Sherman Hotel for a Christmas dinner Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 6:30 p. m. Reservations are required and may be made with Ann Korkoshik, ST6-0106.

Librarian Gives Tips For Yule Book Buyers

With Christmas approaching, books continue to be good children's gifts, but a good literary eye is needed to select from the heaps of good, bad and indifferent works, Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur, assistant librarian notes.

Walter Edmonds has said a really good book for children should have enough humor, reality, wisdom or excitement to be interesting to an adult mind as well as to a child. Books such as "Gullivers Travels" by Jonathan Swift and "Robinson Crusoe" by Daniel DeFoe were written for grownups but were appropriated by children, while "Treasure Island" by Stevenson and "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" by Carroll were written for children but have been equally enjoyed by readers of all ages. Thus the syllogism - worthwhile books for juveniles have the same enduring qualities that worthwhile books for elders have.

"You can always depend on the outstanding classics that have stood the test of time, such as "Caddie Woodlawn" by Carol Brink; "Charlotte's Web" by White, "Tom Sawyer" by Mark Twain, "Wind in the Willows" by Graham, the Alcott and Laura Ingalls Wilder's books, "Bambi" by Salten, "Winne the Pooh" by Milne, "King Arthur and His Knights" by Howard Pyle, "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens, the books of Dr. Seuss, Lois Lenski, Rachel Field and Thornton Burgess.

Some of the better ones on the 1963 list include "Anatole and His Dockey" by de Brunhoff, "Here Comes the Bus" by Haywood, "A Dog Called Scholar" by Anne H. White, "Roosevelt Grady" by Louis Shotwell, "Flight to the Promised Land" by Hamori, "Christmas Gift" by Charlemae Rollins, "A Wrinkle in Time" by Madeline L'Engle, "Mask, the Door County Coon" by Al Sherman, "How Mrs. Santa Claus Saved Christmas" by Phyllis McGinley, "A White Heron" by Sarah Orne Jewett, and "Burt Dow-Deep Water Man" by Robert McCloskey.

Originality, imagination and illustration reflecting the feeling of the text are found in these, she notes. It has just been announced that the seventh observance of Library Week, April 12-19 will have the theme, "Reading is the Key", key to opportunity, key to new worlds, and key to understanding. A book could be the key to understanding that will unlock the door of prejudice, she observes.

AMERICA

The part of the New World which first was called America consisted of the coasts of what now are Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. The name gradually came into use for all of South America and later was given to both continents.

ORDINANCE NO. 431

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 256 ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO TRAFFIC AND REGULATING THE USE OF PUBLIC STREETS, HIGHWAYS AND PARKING LOTS WITHIN CERTAIN ESTABLISHED PARKING METER ZONES OF THE CITY OF ESCANABA; PROVIDING FOR THE DESIGNATION OF INDIVIDUAL PARKING SPACES, FOR THE USE OF SUCH PARKING SPACES, AND FOR THE USE OF PARKING METERS IN CONJUNCTION THEREWITH."

The City of Escanaba Ordains:

CHAPTER I.
Chapters Amended

Section 101. Chapter I of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following Section:

Section 101.10. Non-fee Parking Zones shall mean any street or streets upon which the Council has designated that parking shall be limited to two (2) continuous hours.

Section 102. Section 201 of Chapter II of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended to read as follows:

Section 201. For the purpose of this ordinance, all traffic areas of the City of Escanaba may be declared to be included in a Parking Meter Zone and, because of the flow of traffic on the streets or portions of the streets within the city, parking herein shall be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance. The Parking Meter Zones shall include any street within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan and any publicly-owned or leased parking lot within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, which the City Council so designates.

Section 103. Chapter II of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following section:

Section 202. For the purpose of this ordinance, all traffic areas of the City of Escanaba may be declared to be included in a Non-fee Parking Zone, and because of the flow of traffic on the streets or portions of the streets within the city, parking herein shall be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance. The Non-fee Parking Zones shall include any street within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan and any publicly-owned or leased parking lot within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, which the City Council so designates.

Section 104. Chapter III of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following section:

Section 302. The Director of Public Safety is hereby authorized and directed to designate and mark off such individual parking spaces as he deems proper along the streets in the Non-fee Parking Zones for the parking of vehicles. At each place where individual spaces are so marked off, each vehicle shall be parked entirely within an individual parking space.

Section 105. Chapter V of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following Section:

Section 501.1 The hours during the day and night when there shall be a limit of two (2) continuous hours parking in the Non-fee Parking Zones shall be from 9:00 o'clock A. M. to 6:00 o'clock P. M. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and from 9:00 o'clock A. M. to 9:00 o'clock P. M. on Fridays; except the following national holidays: New Years Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day.

Section 503. The legal parking time in Non-fee Parking Zones shall be two (2) continuous hours, and shall be indicated by appropriate signs.

Section 106. Chapter VII of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following Section:

Section 701.1 It shall be unlawful for a vehicle to be parked in an individual parking space for more than two (2) continuous hours in a Non-fee Parking Zone except on Sundays and Holidays as set forth in Section 501.1 of Chapter V of this Ordinance.

Section 107. Section 801 of Chapter VIII of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended to read as follows:

Section 801. It shall be the duty of the police officers of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, witnessing a violation hereunder, acting in accordance with instructions issued by the Director of Public Safety, to report the following information to said Director:

(a) The number of each parking meter which indicates that the vehicle occupying the parking space adjacent to such parking meter was parked in violation of any of the provisions of this Ordinance; or the location of the individual parking space if the vehicle was parked in a Non-fee Parking Zone in violation of any of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(b) The registration number of such vehicle.

(c) The time at or during which such vehicle was parked in violations of any of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(d) Any other facts, a knowledge of which is necessary to a thorough understanding of the circumstances attending such violation.

Section 108. Section 901 of Chapter IX of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended to read as follows:

Section 901. Penalty. Any person who shall violate Sections 701 701.1, 702 or 703 of this Ordinance may within twenty-four (24) hours of the time when notice of such violation was attached to the vehicle parked in contravention to these provisions, pay at the Police Station, for and in full satisfaction of such violation, the sum of fifty (50) cents. If payment is not made within twenty-four (24) hours, the penalty will be not less than one dollar ($1.00), and must be paid at the Police Station within seven (7) days of said notice. Provided, however, that if such vehicle remains illegally parked when an officer makes a second check the penalty will be one dollar $1.00), and if such vehicle remains illegally parked when an officer makes a third check, the penalty will be one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50). However, the provisions for additional penalty established by the second and third checks of the officer will not apply unless there shall be an interval of at least fifteen (15) minutes between checks. It is also provided that each violation of any of the provisions of the sections cited in this section shall be deemed a separate offence and subject to penalty accordingly.

CHAPTER II.
Saving Clause

Section 201. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses and phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER III.
Conflicting Ordinances

Section 301. All ordinances or parts of ordinances, or resolutions, heretofore passed or adopted which may conflict or be inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER IV
Effective Date

Section 401. This ordinance shall become effective ten (10) days after its adoption and publication.

After a public hearing the above named ordinance was adopted by a unanimous vote of the City Council on December 4, 1963.

Librarian Gives Tips For Yule Book Buyers

With Christmas approaching, books continue to be good children's gifts, but a good literary eye is needed to select from the heaps of good, bad and indifferent works, Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur, assistant librarian notes.

Walter Edmonds has said a really good book for children should have enough humor, reality, wisdom or excitement to be interesting to an adult mind as well as to a child. Books such as "Gullivers Travels" by Jonathan Swift and "Robinson Crusoe" by Daniel DeFoe were written for grownups but were appropriated by children, while "Treasure Island" by Stevenson and "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" by Carroll were written for children but have been equally enjoyed by readers of all ages. Thus the syllogism - worthwhile books for juveniles have the same enduring qualities that worthwhile books for elders have.

"You can always depend on the outstanding classics that have stood the test of time, such as "Caddie Woodlawn" by Carol Brink; "Charlotte's Web" by White, "Tom Sawyer" by Mark Twain, "Wind in the Willows" by Graham, the Alcott and Laura Ingalls Wilder's books, "Bambi" by Salten, "Winne the Pooh" by Milne, "King Arthur and His Knights" by Howard Pyle, "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens, the books of Dr. Seuss, Lois Lenski, Rachel Field and Thornton Burgess.

Some of the better ones on the 1963 list include "Anatole and His Dockey" by de Brunhoff, "Here Comes the Bus" by Haywood, "A Dog Called Scholar" by Anne H. White, "Roosevelt Grady" by Louis Shotwell, "Flight to the Promised Land" by Hamori, "Christmas Gift" by Charlemae Rollins, "A Wrinkle in Time" by Madeline L'Engle, "Mask, the Door County Coon" by Al Sherman, "How Mrs. Santa Claus Saved Christmas" by Phyllis McGinley, "A White Heron" by Sarah Orne Jewett, and "Burt Dow-Deep Water Man" by Robert McCloskey.

Originality, imagination and illustration reflecting the feeling of the text are found in these, she notes. It has just been announced that the seventh observance of Library Week, April 12-19 will have the theme, "Reading is the Key", key to opportunity, key to new worlds, and key to understanding. A book could be the key to understanding that will unlock the door of prejudice, she observes.

AMERICA

The part of the New World which first was called America consisted of the coasts of what now are Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. The name gradually came into use for all of South America and later was given to both continents.

ORDINANCE NO. 431

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 256 ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO TRAFFIC AND REGULATING THE USE OF PUBLIC STREETS, HIGHWAYS AND PARKING LOTS WITHIN CERTAIN ESTABLISHED PARKING METER ZONES OF THE CITY OF ESCANABA; PROVIDING FOR THE DESIGNATION OF INDIVIDUAL PARKING SPACES, FOR THE USE OF SUCH PARKING SPACES, AND FOR THE USE OF PARKING METERS IN CONJUNCTION THEREWITH."

The City of Escanaba Ordains:

CHAPTER I.
Chapters Amended

Section 101. Chapter I of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following Section:

Section 101.10. Non-fee Parking Zones shall mean any street or streets upon which the Council has designated that parking shall be limited to two (2) continuous hours.

Section 102. Section 201 of Chapter II of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended to read as follows:

Section 201. For the purpose of this ordinance, all traffic areas of the City of Escanaba may be declared to be included in a Parking Meter Zone and, because of the flow of traffic on the streets or portions of the streets within the city, parking herein shall be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance. The Parking Meter Zones shall include any street within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan and any publicly-owned or leased parking lot within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, which the City Council so designates.

Section 103. Chapter II of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following section:

Section 202. For the purpose of this ordinance, all traffic areas of the City of Escanaba may be declared to be included in a Non-fee Parking Zone, and because of the flow of traffic on the streets or portions of the streets within the city, parking herein shall be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance. The Non-fee Parking Zones shall include any street within the confines of the City of Escanaba Michigan and any publicly-owned or leased parking lot within the confines of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, which the City Council so designates.

Section 104. Chapter III of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following section:

Section 302. The Director of Public Safety is hereby authorized and directed to designate and mark off such individual parking spaces as he deems proper along the streets in the Non-fee Parking Zones for the parking of vehicles. At each place where individual spaces are so marked off, each vehicle shall be parked entirely within an individual parking space.

Section 105. Chapter V of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following Section:

Section 501.1 The hours during the day and night when there shall be a limit of two (2) continuous hours parking in the Non-fee Parking Zones shall be from 9:00 o'clock A. M. to 6:00 o'clock P. M. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and from 9:00 o'clock A. M. to 9:00 o'clock P. M. on Fridays; except the following national holidays: New Years Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day.

Section 503. The legal parking time in Non-fee Parking Zones shall be two (2) continuous hours, and shall be indicated by appropriate signs.

Section 106. Chapter VII of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended by the addition of the following Section:

Section 701.1 It shall be unlawful for a vehicle to be parked in an individual parking space for more than two (2) continuous hours in a Non-fee Parking Zone except on Sundays and Holidays as set forth in Section 501.1 of Chapter V of this Ordinance.

Section 107. Section 801 of Chapter VIII of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended to read as follows:

Section 801. It shall be the duty of the police officers of the City of Escanaba, Michigan, witnessing a violation hereunder, acting in accordance with instructions issued by the Director of Public Safety, to report the following information to said Director:

(a) The number of each parking meter which indicates that the vehicle occupying the parking space adjacent to such parking meter was parked in violation of any of the provisions of this Ordinance; or the location of the individual parking space if the vehicle was parked in a Non-fee Parking Zone in violation of any of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(b) The registration number of such vehicle.

(c) The time at or during which such vehicle was parked in violations of any of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(d) Any other facts, a knowledge of which is necessary to a thorough understanding of the circumstances attending such violation.

Section 108. Section 901 of Chapter IX of Ordinance No. 256 shall be amended to read as follows:

Section 901. Penalty. Any person who shall violate Sections 701 701.1, 702 or 703 of this Ordinance may within twenty-four (24 hours of the time when notice of such violation was attached to the vehicle parked in contravention to these provisions, pay at the Police Station, for and in full satisfaction of such violation, the sum of fifty (50) cents. If payment is not made within twenty-four (24) hours, the penalty will be not less than one dollar ($1.00), and must be paid at the Police Station within seven (7) days of said notice. Provided, however, that if such vehicle remains illegally parked when an officer makes a second check the penalty will be one dollar $1.00), and if such vehicle remains illegally parked when an officer makes a third check, the penalty will be one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50). However, the provisions for additional penalty established by the second and third checks of the officer will not apply unless there shall be an interval of at least fifteen (15) minutes between checks. It is also provided that each violation of any of the provisions of the sections cited in this section shall be deemed a separate offence and subject to penalty accordingly.

CHAPTER II.
Saving Clause

Section 201. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses and phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER III.
Conflicting Ordinances

Section 301. All ordinances or parts of ordinances, or resolutions, heretofore passed or adopted which may conflict or be inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER IV
Effective Date

Section 401. This ordinance shall become effective ten (10) days after its adoption and publication.

After a public hearing the above named ordinance was adopted by a unanimous vote of the City Council on December 4, 1963.

Young Man Buys Eagles For 5½ Million Dollars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boyish - looking, 36-year-old Jerry Wolman has bought the Philadelphia Eagles for $5,505,500, furthering the trend of young millionaires taking control of National Football League teams.

Subject to approval of the NFL, Wolman, a Washington contractor, will join such young owners as Art Modell of Cleveland, Dan Reeves of Los Angeles, Clint Murchison of Dallas, the Bidwill brothers of St. Louis and Clay Ford of Detroit.

Another trend is toward single ownership. The sale of the Eagles Thursday by 65 stockholders leaves only Green Bay and Minnesota as teams owned by large groups of stockholders.

"Ever since I was a kid and hitchhiked from Shenandoah, Pa., (his native town), to Philadelphia to see the Eagles play, I wanted to own this team," Wolman said.

He reportedly is worth more than $30 million made by building apartments and office buildings. He owns the National Theater building in Washington and the Raleigh Hotel. He said he expects to move to Philadelphia once the purchase is approved.

In line with an unwritten NFL rule, Wolman has promised he will control 51 per cent of the stock. His associate, Earl Foreman, a Washington attorney, is buying the other 49 per cent.

The new owner also has agreed to keep the team in Philadelphia.

Lions Sign Third Choice

DETROIT (AP)—After losing draft choices No. 1 and 2, the Detroit Lions have signed No. 3 —Hardin-Simmons halfback Pat Batten—Lions President William Clay Ford said Thursday.

Ford said four others of the 21 college players drafted by the Lions last Monday also have signed contracts, but he did not identify them.

The Lions' top draft choice, quarterback Pete Beathard, and No. 2 pick, end Matt Snorton, decided to play in the American Football League.

Michigan Boxers Among Top Ten

MIAMI BEACH, Fla (AP) — Three Michigan boxers were listed among the top ten contenders in their respective divisions in rankings announced Thursday by the World Boxing Association.

Kenny Lane, the Muskegon southpaw, was rated the top challenger in the lightweight class. Henry Hank, of Detroit, was ranked eighth among the light heavyweights, and Ted Wright, also of Detroit, was No. 8 in the junior middleweight division.

Three Quarterbacks Make All-America Grid Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Three quarterbacks including miraculous Midshipman Roger Staubach, a gritty little man, and a part-time teacher join returnee Damon Dame on the 1963 Associated Press All-America football team.

Staubach won the Heisman Trophy as the College Player of the Year. With Saturday's game against Army remaining, he has accounted for 1,738 yards passing and running.

This was the year of the quarterback.

Jimmy Sidle, who guided once-beaten Auburn to an Orange Bowl trip, and Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech's "Do it Yourself" exponent, were the other field generals picked on the recommendations of eight regional boards. The sportswriters and broadcasters took into account all games through Nov. 30.

Lewis Is Pick

Sherman Lewis, a 154 - pound Michigan State Sprinter, completes the backfield.

A line averaging 225 pounds features Dame, rated a better guard than a year ago when he spurred Southern California's national champions.

End Dave Parks of Texas Tech, first man picked in the National Football League draft, is paired with Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Scott Appleton, a 235 - pounder who has been practicing teaching at an Austin elementary school, blocked and tackled Texas to its first perfect season in 25 years. At the other tackle is Minnesota's Carl Eller, who stood out for an unspectacular team.

Guard Bob Brown, "the Big Daddy" of Nebraska's first conference champions in 23 years, and fiery center - linebacker Dick Butkus of Rose Bowl-bound Illinois complete the squad.

Three Juniors

Staubach, Sidle and Butkus are juniors, the rest seniors.

Staubach is just plain hard to believe. Against Michigan, for example, he completed 14 of 16 passes for 237 yards and two touchdowns, then ran 70 more. He accounted for 235 yards in Navy's only loss, the wild 32-28 setback to Southern Methodist, and on the final play was passing for an apparent winning score when a defender batted the ball away from the receiver in the end zone.

Basing the selections on all-around excellence rather than on a quarterback, fullback and two halfbacks, the team also includes Sidle and Lothridge.

The Southeastern Regional Board rated Sidle slightly ahead of Lothridge and 1962 All-America George Mira, in that order, at the signal calling job. Mira, who had a better passing record this year with less help, is in the second team backfield with Baylor's Don Trull, Duke's Jay Wilkinson and Gale Sayers of Kansas.

Although a marked man who sometimes crashed into linemen 100 pounds heavier, Lewis never missed a game in three varsity seasons and always was a threat to break open a contest at any moment.

He turned in five runs of over 80 yards this season.

Parks was grabbed by the San Francisco 49'ers in the NFL draft and may be used as a defensive back.

North Carolina wouldn't give Lacey a football scholarship at the outset until he earned it, which took almost no time at all.

Appleton, a middle guard on defense and weak side tackle in Texas's flip-flop offense, is a big reason the Longhorns have lost only twice since he became a varsity head knocker.

Eller capped a brilliant season in the 13-0 grudge victory over Wisconsin during which he led a great goal line stand at the one, deflected a pass to a teammate for an interception, caught a tackle eligible pass and generally made life miserable for Badger quarterbacks.

Brown is the team's big man at 269 pounds. He wears out a pair of six 14½-E shoes per game and caves in a helmet almost as often.

Keg Star Rolls Here Saturday

If Milwaukee's Wayne Pinkalla was a popular singer, his accomplishments would have earned him the much-desired "Gold - Records". However, Wayne is a bowler and his records are not juke-box hits, but rather strike hits on the nation's bowling lanes.

Wayne's most recent smash hit was at the 1961 ABC Masters Tournament in Detroit. There the Brunswick Advisory Staff bowler rolled a 1771 total to set a new ABC record among qualifiers in the championship event.

In 1959 Wayne and his brother Bob, also a Brunswick Star, were on the three-man team which set an all-time high series of 2404 and an all-time high single game of 859.

Wayne's other smashes include holding the nation's second highest league average, a 231 during the 1959-60 season and rolling three sanctioned 300 games in the 1960 season. He also rolled two series of over 800 last year.

He was 1958 Milwaukee BPA Match Game Champion and with Bob won the 1961 Milwaukee Doubles title.

Wayne appears here on Saturday, Dec. 7, at the Continental Lanes. Manager Dave Friets reports Wayne will bowl in an exhibition match and offer free bowling instruction. The program begins 2 p. m.

Wayne's appearance is as a member of the Brunswick Advisory Staff of Champions. In this role he is one of 125 top bowlers who promote bowling as the nation's No. 1 participation sport through events such as planned for Continental Lanes.

Cage Tournament To Open Tonight

By The Associated Press

As part of the festivities revolving tround West Virginia's 100th year of statehood, the Centennial Classic basketball tournament opens tonight at Morgantown with the Mountaineers in a four-team field that includes fourth-ranked Duke and seventh-ranked Ohio State.

The Mountaineers have passed through the Hot Rod Hundley, Jerry West and Rod Thorn eras and face an imposing task in the tournament. They tackle St. John's, N.Y., in the first round after Duke and Ohio State tangle in the opening game.

The Mountaineers lack an established star of the Hundley-West-Thorn mold and showed a weak offense in beating Furman 67-65 and The Citadel 58-53.

If they get by St. John's, they'll have to match baskets either with a Duke team boasting Jeff Mullins and a pair of 6-foot-10 standouts in Jay Buckley and Hack Tison, or an Ohio State team built around high-scoring Gary Bradds.

One other major college tournament is scheduled tonight as the collegians usher in the annual holiday tournament season. That's the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh, where Duquesne meets Westminster and Pittsburgh plays George Washington.

Two other Top Ten teams are in action tonight, second-ranked NYU facing Tulsa in the second York's Madison Square Garden, and eighth - ranked Michigan meeting Nebraska at Ann Arbor. The Garden opener matches Manhattan and Navy.

Thursday night's basketball fare was skimpy, with only six major games played. Five were close, however, decided by a total of 16 points.

Georgia edged Clemson 87-86 on Billy Rado's jump shot with three seconds left, Sam Chase collected 24 points as LSU eshaw's 22 points led Centenary to a 77-72 triumph over TCU, Texas A&M held on for a 61-58 decision over Houston and New Orleans Loyola nipped Southern Mississippi 72-69.

In the only other major game, DePaul surged to a 33-point lead early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way behind substitutes for a 78-67 walloping of Idaho State. All five DePaul regulars scored in double figures, with Jim Murphy's 19 points taking scoring honors.

Dartball Loop Slates Tourney

The Tavern Dartball League will stage its first half championship tournament next week, opening with first round games Tuesday, Dec. 10.

The tourney will continue through Dec. 16 with the finals set for White Birch starting at 8 p. m.

The first round schedule will match Bay de Noc against Lombardi's, Al's against Wardy's, Spar's against Colonial and Palm against White Birch. West Side, King's Arcadia and Eddy's drew byes.

Tiger Favored To Keep Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dick Tiger, a pressure fighter with intense pride in his role as world middleweight boxing champion, rates a solid favorite to turn back the challenge of confident Joey Giardello in their title match Saturday at Convention Hall.

When Tiger and Giardello split two decisions in 1959, they were eager young contenders for the crown claimed by both Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer. Now Tiger is the boss. Having disposed of Fullmer in three matches, he is ready to give Giardello his chance.

"If Tiger wants to fight me he has to come and get me," Giardello said during the long training siege. Tiger was properly upset.

"How do you like that?" The champ asked in his precise singsong English. "The challenger is telling me how he is going to win my title. As the champion I have a lot to lose. Joey has no title to lose."

The record books show that Tiger beat Giardello, Sept. 30, 1959 in Chicago and lost a decision in a Nov. 4 return bout at Cleveland the same year.

"Joey was easier the second fight," said Tiger. "I thought I was better but I didn't get it."

There was talk around town of a 2½-3½ price favoring Tiger. That would mean 3-1 man-to-man if accurate. It shapes up about like that for Tiger is strong, and durable. He never has been knocked off his feet in 63 bouts. His record is 48-12-3. At the age of 34 he appears better than ever.

Giardello, 33, is a veteran of 123 pro fights dating back to 1948. His record is 93-22-7, plus one no decision contest. Joey has been stopped three times, the last in 1958. In three starts this year he has beaten Wilfie Greaves, Ernie Buford and Sugar Ray Robinson. The Robinson match, June 24, was his most recent.

Red Wings Shake Losing String; Howe Scores Two

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio have snapped their scoring slumps and Sid Abel has found a third man to play on the No. 1 line, the Detroit Red Wings seem ready to make their bid to move up in the National Hockey League standings.

Howe and Delvecchio each scored two goals Thursday night as the Red Wings defeated the Boston Bruins 4-2. The victory, first for Detroit in eight games, and a 4-2 win by Montreal over New York in the only other league game played lifted the Red Wings into sole possession of fourth place.

Delvecchio's goals were his first in 12 games, while Howe had not scored since he set an NHL record with his 545th career tally last Nov. 10. That game also happened to be the last the Red Wings were to win for almost four weeks.

While Abel, Detroit coach and general manager, was pleased with the work of his veterans, he also gave a large share of praise to John MacMillen a left winger purchased from Toronto earlier this week.

Abel started the newcomer on the line with Howe and Delvecchio "just to see what he could do."

MacMillan not only took a regular turn with the same line all night, but picked up two assists and had eight shots on goal himself to lead shooters from both sides.

Murray Oliver scored both of Boston's goals, though the Red Wings insist he kicked in his first one.

Howe, who also had two assists, had put Detroit ahead at the three - minute mark of the second period after a drab 23 minutes of hockey when he slapped MacMillan's rebound past Boston goalie Ed Johnston. The Bruins were a ma nshort at the time.

Delvecchio's first goal came with the Bruins again playing shorthanded. The Red Wing captain jammed the puck in after Johnston had neatly stopped Doug Barkley's shot from the point.

Delvecchio scored again later in the period after taking a picture cross - rink pass from Howe and beating Johnston from about 15 feet out.

Howe counted Detroit's fourth goal just after the six minute mark of the final period, and Oliver matched it with a shot from the blue line less than a minute later.

Sawchuk, who missed two games after wrenching his back last Thursday in a game with Montreal, made 20 saves, half of them in the final period.

Johnston made 33 saves, with 25 of them coming in the first two periods.

At Montreal, the Canadiens spotted the Rangers an early goal, then came back with two within a minute in the first period and won easily. The victory moved Montreal into second place ahead of idle Toronto.

Army Gridders Are Determined

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There was a grim "We will win" determination about the Army football team that moved into this City of Brotherly Love today for its 64th game with heavily-favored Navy.

"We are fighting for our lives," said tight-lipped Paul Dietzel, coach of the West Pointers. "I have never seen a bunch of boys so eager and so intent before a big game. They are really high."

The young Army coach shrugged off the 11-point odds, favoring the sensational Roger Staubach and his Annapolis cohorts, No. 2 ranked nationally and probably headed for the Cotton Bowl in Dallas if they can pull off their ninth victory in 10 games this year.

"I never went into a game I expected to lose," Dietzel said, throwing down the gauntlet to Navy's Coach Wayne Hardin.

Hardin didn't flinch.

"We have a lot of respect for Army—it is a fine defensive team," he said. "But we think we are the No. 1 team in the country. We want to prove it."

The Midshpmen may get their chance Saturday.

Army and Navy clash at 1:30 p.m. EST in the vast Municipal Stadium, scene of many an exciting and star-spangled thriller in the past, with 100,000 watching from the stands, millions of others from TV screens ano Cotton Bowl representatives looking on from the wings.

The game will be nationally televised by CBS, starting at 1:15 p.m.

A Navy triumph is certain to bring a bid—and prompt acceptance—for the second-ranked Middies to play No. 1 and unbeaten Texas at Dallas on New Year's Day.

Few games between the two service academies have created the tensions surrounding this one, which will be staged in a somber atmosphere out of deference to the late commander-in-chief, President John F. Kennedy.

The 2,400 member Corps of Cadets and 3,700 brigade of Midshipmen will attend the game but will forego the marching between halves. The only ceremony will be a military musical concert ending with "America the Beautiful," a tribute to the late President Kennedy.

Three Quarterbacks Make All-America Grid Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Three quarterbacks including miraculous Midshipman Roger Staubach, a gritty little man, and a part-time teacher join returnee Damon Dame on the 1963 Associated Press All-America football team.

Staubach won the Heisman Trophy as the College Player of the Year. With Saturday's game against Army remaining, he has accounted for 1,738 yards passing and running.

This was the year of the quarterback.

Jimmy Sidle, who guided once-beaten Auburn to an Orange Bowl trip, and Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech's "Do it Yourself" exponent, were the other field generals picked on the recommendations of eight regional boards. The sportswriters and broadcasters took into account all games through Nov. 30.

Lewis Is Pick

Sherman Lewis, a 154 - pound Michigan State Sprinter, completes the backfield.

A line averaging 225 pounds features Dame, rated a better guard than a year ago when he spurred Southern California's national champions.

End Dave Parks of Texas Tech, first man picked in the National Football League draft, is paired with Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Scott Appleton, a 235 - pounder who has been practicing teaching at an Austin elementary school, blocked and tackled Texas to its first perfect season in 25 years. At the other tackle is Minnesota's Carl Eller, who stood out for an unspectacular team.

Guard Bob Brown, "the Big Daddy" of Nebraska's first conference champions in 23 years, and fiery center - linebacker Dick Butkus of Rose Bowl-bound Illinois complete the squad.

Three Juniors

Staubach, Sidle and Butkus are juniors, the rest seniors.

Staubach is just plain hard to believe. Against Michigan, for example, he completed 14 of 16 passes for 237 yards and two touchdowns, then ran 70 more. Mira, who had a better passing record this year with less help, is in the second team backfield with Baylor's Don Trull, Duke's Jay Wilkinson and Gale Sayers of Kansas.

Tiger Favored To Keep Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dick Tiger, a pressure fighter with intense pride in his role as world middleweight boxing champion, rates a solid favorite to turn back the challenge of confident Joey Giardello in their title match Saturday at Convention Hall.

When Tiger and Giardello split two decisions in 1959, they were eager young contenders for the crown claimed by both Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer. Now Tiger is the boss. Having disposed of Fullmer in three matches, he is ready to give Giardello his chance.

"If Tiger wants to fight me he has to come and get me," Giardello said during the long training siege. Tiger was properly upset.

"How do you like that?" The champ asked in his precise singsong English. "The challenger is telling me how he is going to win my title. As the champion I have a lot to lose. Joey has no title to lose."

The record books show that Tiger beat Giardello, Sept. 30, 1959 in Chicago and lost a decision in a Nov. 4 return bout at Cleveland the same year.

"Joey was easier the second fight," said Tiger. "I thought I was better but I didn't get it."

There was talk around town of a 2½-3½ price favoring Tiger. That would mean 3-1 man-to-man if accurate. It shapes up about like that for Tiger is strong, and durable. He never has been knocked off his feet in 63 bouts. His record is 48-12-3. At the age of 34 he appears better than ever.

Giardello, 33, is a veteran of 123 pro fights dating back to 1948. His record is 93-22-7, plus one no decision contest. Joey has been stopped three times, the last in 1958. In three starts this year he has beaten Wilfie Greaves, Ernie Buford and Sugar Ray Robinson. The Robinson match, June 24, was his most recent.

Young Man Buys Eagles For 5½ Million Dollars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boyish - looking, 36-year-old Jerry Wolman has bought the Philadelphia Eagles for $5,505,500, furthering the trend of young millionaires taking control of National Football League teams.

Subject to approval of the NFL, Wolman, a Washington contractor, will join such young owners as Art Modell of Cleveland, Dan Reeves of Los Angeles, Clint Murchison of Dallas, the Bidwill brothers of St. Louis and Clay Ford of Detroit.

Another trend is toward single ownership. The sale of the Eagles Thursday by 65 stockholders leaves only Green Bay and Minnesota as teams owned by large groups of stockholders.

"Ever since I was a kid and hitchhiked from Shenandoah, Pa., (his native town), to Philadelphia to see the Eagles play, I wanted to own this team," Wolman said.

He reportedly is worth more than $30 million made by building apartments and office buildings. He owns the National Theater building in Washington and the Raleigh Hotel. He said he expects to move to Philadelphia once the purchase is approved.

In line with an unwritten NFL rule, Wolman has promised he will control 51 per cent of the stock. His associate, Earl Foreman, a Washington attorney, is buying the other 49 per cent.

The new owner also has agreed to keep the team in Philadelphia.

Lions Sign Third Choice

DETROIT (AP)—After losing draft choices No. 1 and 2, the Detroit Lions have signed No. 3 —Hardin-Simmons halfback Pat Batten—Lions President William Clay Ford said Thursday.

Ford said four others of the 21 college players drafted by the Lions last Monday also have signed contracts, but he did not identify them.

The Lions' top draft choice, quarterback Pete Beathard, and No. 2 pick, end Matt Snorton, decided to play in the American Football League.

Michigan Boxers Among Top Ten

MIAMI BEACH, Fla (AP) — Three Michigan boxers were listed among the top ten contenders in their respective divisions in rankings announced Thursday by the World Boxing Association.

Kenny Lane, the Muskegon southpaw, was rated the top challenger in the lightweight class. Henry Hank, of Detroit, was ranked eighth among the light heavyweights, and Ted Wright, also of Detroit, was No. 8 in the junior middleweight division.

Red Wings Shake Losing String; Howe Scores Two

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio have snapped their scoring slumps and Sid Abel has found a third man to play on the No. 1 line, the Detroit Red Wings seem ready to make their bid to move up in the National Hockey League standings.

Howe and Delvecchio each scored two goals Thursday night as the Red Wings defeated the Boston Bruins 4-2. The victory, first for Detroit in eight games, and a 4-2 win by Montreal over New York in the only other league game played lifted the Red Wings into sole possession of fourth place.

Delvecchio's goals were his first in 12 games, while Howe had not scored since he set an NHL record with his 545th career tally last Nov. 10. That game also happened to be the last the Red Wings were to win for almost four weeks.

While Abel, Detroit coach and general manager, was pleased with the work of his veterans, he also gave a large share of praise to John MacMillen a left winger purchased from Toronto earlier this week.

Abel started the newcomer on the line with Howe and Delvecchio "just to see what he could do."

MacMillan not only took a regular turn with the same line all night, but picked up two assists and had eight shots on goal himself to lead shooters from both sides.

Murray Oliver scored both of Boston's goals, though the Red Wings insist he kicked in his first one.

Howe, who also had two assists, had put Detroit ahead at the three - minute mark of the second period after a drab 23 minutes of hockey when he slapped MacMillan's rebound past Boston goalie Ed Johnston. The Bruins were a manshort at the time.

Delvecchio's first goal came with the Bruins again playing shorthanded. The Red Wing captain jammed the puck in after Johnston had neatly stopped Doug Barkley's shot from the point.

Delvecchio scored again later in the period after taking a picture cross - rink pass from Howe and beating Johnston from about 15 feet out.

Howe counted Detroit's fourth goal just after the six minute mark of the final period, and Oliver matched it with a shot from the blue line less than a minute later.

Sawchuk, who missed two games after wrenching his back last Thursday in a game with Montreal, made 20 saves, half of them in the final period.

Johnston made 33 saves, with 25 of them coming in the first two periods.

At Montreal, the Canadiens spotted the Rangers an early goal, then came back with two within a minute in the first period and won easily. The victory moved Montreal into second place ahead of idle Toronto.

Tech Beaten By Olympics

HOUGHTON (AP) — The U.S. Olympic hockey team defeated Michigan Tech 3-1 Thursday night as it fired 23 shots on goal in the final 20 minutes, after two scoreless periods.

The Olympics' Bill Reichart scored the first goal of the game at 4:55 of the third period. After Tech tied the score on George Hill's goal, Reichart tallied again.

Dan Dilworth scored the Olympics' final goal while Tech's Gary MacLellan sat out a penalty.

It was Tech's season opener. The Olympics have a 5-1-1 exhibition record. The two teams meet again Friday night at Houghton.

Card Of Thanks

Castor

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear husband and father, Michael Castor. We are grateful to Rev. Albert Borns, to Dr. Olsen, Kelley's Funeral Home, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers and cards of sympathy. Those who offered the use of their cars. These acts of kindness will never be forgotten.

Tech Beaten By Olympics

HOUGHTON (AP) — The U.S. Olympic hockey team defeated Michigan Tech 3-1 Thursday night as it fired 23 shots on goal in the final 20 minutes, after two scoreless periods.

The Olympics' Bill Reichart scored the first goal of the game at 4:55 of the third period. After Tech tied the score on George Hill's goal, Reichart tallied again.

Dan Dilworth scored the Olympics' final goal while Tech's Gary MacLellan sat out a penalty.

It was Tech's season opener. The Olympics have a 5-1-1 exhibition record. The two teams meet again Friday night at Houghton.

Yule Lighting:

Best Displays To Win Prizes

An outdoor Christmas lighting contest for residents of the City of Escanaba is being sponsored by the Escanaba Lions Club in the interest of making the community one of the most gaily lighted cities in the area during the holidays.

The contest is designed to encourage people to light up their homes and lawns to make them more attractive during the holiday season.

All exterior lighting will be viewed by judges who will make their rounds each evening during the period from Dec. 23 through Dec. 28. The lighting will be judged on the basis of originality, general artistic effect, holiday significance and ingenuity.

Prizes will be awarded as follows: First prize $25, second $15, third $10, plus honorable mention.

It is not necessary to make application to enter the contest and no entry blanks are required. Homes inside the city limits of Escanaba only are eligible to enter the contest. Judges of the displays will not be residents of the city. Winners will be announced on Dec. 30.

The Lions Club lighting committee is composed of Elio Argentati and Harold Olsen.

Pope Will Take Trip On Jan. 4

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will leave Rome for the Holy Land on Jan. 4 and will return Jan. 6, the Vatican Press Office announced today.

The Vatican still did not say the Pope would travel by air, which no Pope has ever done before. But obviously he could only make the 3,000-mile round trip to Palestine in three days by plane.

Pope Paul will be the first Pope to visit the Holy Land since St. Peter—the first Pope—left Palestine after the death of Christ. He will be the first Roman Catholic pontiff to leave Italy in a century and a half.

The announcement today gave no details of the Pope's itinerary. Nor did it say where he would be lodged there.

It was assumed he would spend one night in the old city of Jerusalem, which is occupied by Jordan, and one night in Nazareth, in Israel.

Japanese Girls Send Gifts To Caroline, John

TOKYO (AP)—Caroline and John F. Kennedy Jr. will receive Christmas gifts from 180 Japanese girls attending a knitting school in Wakayama.

A cream - colored cardigan jacket and cap were sent to 6-year-old Caroline. John Jr., 3, gets a brown - cream - black sweater and cap.

A letter addressed to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, and enclosed in the package, said:

"We wish our humble Christmas present will help console the hearts of your two little children."

THIS IS THE PROPOSED site of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library at Boston. Plans to raise $6,000,000 entirely by public subscription were announced by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass, brothers of the slain president, and Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard University. Just to the right of the site and in the foreground are Harvard dormitories. (AP Wirephoto)

Tree Erected At White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CHRISTMAS TREE: a 71-foot red spruce cut from Turkey Bone Mountain W. Va., was placed in the park behind the White House Thursday to become the nation's Christmas tree.

President Johnson will press a button to light the tree the night of Dec. 22 and will deliver his Christmas message to the nation.

U.S. - JAPAN: The United States and Japan are understood to be trying to arrange a new date for a cabinet-level economic discussion in Tokyo.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and five other Cabinet members were en route to Tokyo for a meeting scheduled for Nov. 25-27 when word was flashed to their plane in midPacific that President Kennedy had been assassinated. The cabinet group immediately turned back to Washington and the conference was postponed.

PEARL HARBOR DAY: The Navy will mark the 22nd anniversary Saturday of the Japanest attack on Pearl Harbor by commissioning a new guided missile frigate named for a California ensign who died in the battle.

The 7,000-ton U.S.S. England is the second naval vessel to be named in honor of Ensign John C. England of Alhambra, Calif., who was killed aboard the battleship Oklahoma.

The first England was a World War II destroyer-escort which made history in 1944 when it sank six Japanese submarines in 12 days.

KREBIOZEN: Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., has asked for a Senate investigation of the validity of two government agencies' reports that Krebiozen is ineffective as an anti-cancer drug.

Douglas told the Senate Thursday that he had arranged for an independent study of the agencies conclusions.

Picketing Case Appeal Denied Bv High Court

MARQUETTE — Michigan's Supreme Court this week denied a union petition for leave to appeal a temporary injunction and five contempt of court citations issued last summer in Marquette County Circuit Court by Judge Ernest W. Brown of Iron Mountain.

Judge Brown had issued a temporary injunction against picketing of the Red Wing, an ore carrier owned by Upper Lakes Shipping, Ltd., Toronto, and cited five men, who violated his orders against picketing, for contempt of court.

Requesting the appeal of Judge Brown's decisions were the Great Lakes District of the Seafarers' International Union, District II of the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Assn. and the five pickets involved.

The Supreme Court's refusal to allow an appeal in the Red Wing case comes in the same week that the navigation seasons ends here. The Cliffs Victory, a Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. carrier, was scheduled to be the last to load at the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. dock on Thursday.

Hanna Planning More Pellet Ore

Robert J. Linney, internationally recognized authority in the field of iron ore mining and beneficiation, has been elected vice president-operations and assistant executive vice president of The Hanna Mining Company. He will assume his new duties January 1.

This was announced in Cleveland today by W. A. Marting, Hanna Mining president, who said that Mr. Linney will assist R. W. Whitney, executive vice president, in the management of all Hanna operations.

Linney is president of Reserve Mining Co., owned jointly by Republic Steel Corporation and Armco Steel Corp. Reserve built the world's first plant for the volume production of high grade iron ore pellets from taconite, a low grade iron bearing rock of Minnesota's Mesabi iron range.

Hanna Mining has become an important producer of high grade iron ore pellets in recent years. Its Groveland plant near Iron Mountain can produce 1,500,000 tons of high grade concentrates annually, of which it can pelletize 1,250,000 tons. It operates a beneficiation and pellet plant near Sudbury, Ontario, with an annual capacity of 600,000 tons. It also has a major interest in Iron Ore Co. of Canada, which can produce 7,000,000 tons of concentrates, of which 5,500,000 tons can be pelletized.

As one of the world's leading independent iron ore companies, Hanna Mining operates propetries in Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri and Ontario and shares in the management of Iron Ore Company of Canada, which has large scale operations in Quebec and Labrador.

Hanna Mining also operates bulk carriers on the Great Lakes, in the St. Lawrence Seaway and on salt water. It manages iron ore and coal docks on the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Coast. It has the nation's only nickel mine and smelter in Oregon and currently is engaged in the exploration and development of new properties in North and South America and western Australia.

Hanna has announced that it is considering building a plant to beneficiate taconite on the west end of the Mesabi Range. In recent addresses, Marting pointed out that Minnesota has some of the best taconite reserves in the world and that Hanna's pilot plant work on taconites has been very encouraging.

He spoke of the possibility of future expansion of the Groveland plant near Iron Mountain and said the company is also considering a pellet plant at its Missouri properties.

Load At Escanaba

This year the Chicago & North Western Railway will load out about 800,000 tons of pellet ore from the Groveland plant. Next year the total is expected to reach 1,250,000 tons. The Groveland plant is located at Randville, 14 miles northeast of Iron Mountain.

Jailed Leader Of Nazi Youth Put In Hospital

BERLIN (AP) — Baldur von Schirach, former Nazi youth leader serving 20 years for war crimes, has been taken from Spandau Prison to a hospital for treatment of a circulatory condition.

An Allied spokesman said Schirach's condition was not serious but a blood clot in a leg could not be treated conveniently in prison.

Schirach, 56, is due for release in 1966.

Offer Recheck On Chest X-Ray

The Michigan Department of Health follow-up mobile x-ray unit will be in Delta County Dec. 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. The unit is equipped to take large films in addition to small films and its main function is to provide follow-up films on those having abnormal x-rays in the October, 1963 survey.

Anyone having an abnormal film in that survey can get a large x-ray Dec. 9 through the 13. Others can also be accommodated, including school children who have positive tuberculin tests, persons having had active tuberculosis in the past, nursing home occupants, and physician's referrals.

The unit will also be able to accept persons who missed out on the October set-up, said Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director, Delta-Menominee District Department of Health.

Dec. 9 — Bark River, Town Hall, 1 to 5 and 6 to 8 p. m.

Dec. 10 — Escanaba, County Building, 10 to 12 noon and 1 to 6 p. m.

Dec. 11 — Escanaba, County Building 12 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m.

Dec. 12 — Escanaba, County Building, 1 to 6 and 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Dec. 13 — Escanaba, Harnischfeger plant, Danforth Rd., 11 to 1 and 2 to 6.

Planes Will Salt Van Buren Roads

PAW PAW (AP) — Early morning motorists traveling Van Buren County roads this winter may encounter some low flying aircraft.

But they needn't panic. It's not an air raid. It's a new form of ice control.

The planes will be dumping concentrations of calcium chloride and rock salt on highways.

The new program has been adopted by the Van Buren County Road Commission. The move was approved after successful experiments conducted jointly last winter by the road commission and Mueller Crop Dusting Co.

Williams Talks With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson conferred Wednesday with G. Mennen Williams, assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. Williams, a former Michigan governor, will return to Africa at the end of the week as a member of special U.S. missions to the celebrations of the independence of Zanzibar and Kenya.

Freedom Medal Awarded To 28

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson presents the presidential Medal of Freedom today to 28 Americans and foreigners—all selected by John F. Kennedy as being "dedicated to the highest standards of human achievement."

All have distinguished themselves in public affairs, education, science, health, letters and the creative and performing arts.

The medal, a five-pointed star ringed by gold eagles and hanging from a blue and white ribbon, is the highest civilian award a chief executive may bestow in peacetime.

In presenting the awards today Johnson finishes a task begun by his assassinated predecessor. It was on July 4 that Kennedy announced the list, saying:

"The varied and distinguished careers of those selected...amply demonstrate freedom's rich resource of men and women endowed with creative capacity and dedicated to the highest standards of human achievement. It is such as they, and those who march with them, whose talent enlarges the public vision of the dignity with which life can be graced and the fullness with which it can be lived."

Kennedy named 31 to receive the award — which previously has been received by only 24 persons directly from the president in the medal's 17 year history.

One of those named to receive the medal, but who will not be on hand, was Herbert H. Lehman, a New Deal architect and former U.S. senator and governor of New York.

Lehman, 85, died of a heart attack Thursday as he was preparing to leave for Washington to receive the honor.

Pond Workshop For UP Monday

A Lake and Pond Workshop is scheduled for Marquette Monday. Landowners and managers, camp and waterfront directors, county and municipal officials, local tourist and lake association representatives, realtors, soil conservation service, Michigan Department of Conservation and Extension Service personnel have been invited to meet from noon until 4 p. m. at the Northwoods Restaurant.

Dr. Clifford R. Humphreys, professor in resource development at Michigan State University, will discuss problems relevant to inland lakes and ponds. He will tell the group that, "generally these problems of the northern region are associated with underdevelopment while those of the southern part of the state are problems of overdevelopment."

In the afternoon, a detailed discussion on lake management will cover development, water safety, weed control, fish management, lake level stabilization, beach improvement, polution control and water rights.

Pond problems to be discussed will include assistance covering design, construction, use and maintenance, weed control, beach construction, fish management and polution.

Dr. Humphreys says each community delegation will receive a package of material listing specific resources available for developing inland lakes and ponds.

Associated with the conference will be another Monday meeting to bring Upper Peninsula Agricultural Advisory Council members to the MSU Extension Center at 10:30 a. m.

District Court Orders UAW To Pay $1,325,000

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A Federal District Court jury Thursday ended an 11-year court battle by ordering the United Auto Workers to pay the largest judgement ever rendered against the union—$1,325,000

The jury awarded the damages to Malleable Industries, Inc. of Benton Harbor The jury deliberated for two days before announcing its decision in the law suit which began in 1952

The judgement came in two parts: $1,210,000 against the UAW International, and $115,000 against the now defunct Local 880, of Benton Harbor

Press Run Sets Record Thursday At Detroit News

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today sales of its Thursday paper, including a special pictorial section on the late President Kennedy, set an all-time high for its daily editions.

The News said its press runs also were the largest in history except for the first two days after Election Day of 1960 when Kennedy was elected president.

"Uncounted thousands" had to go without the paper Thursday when supplies ran out, the News said.

More than 900,000 papers were printed with the press run boosted by more than 150,000, the News said.

On the day after Election Day of 1960 the press run was 941,027 and on the second day it was 909,978. Complete election results were printed the day after the election.

Management said today it had yet to complete final figures on Thursday's sales and press runs.

The special Kennedy section was a pictorial record of Kennedy's 2½ years in office as President and his assassination Nov. 22 in Dallas.

Gifts Requested By State Hospital For Patients

The Gift Tree, sponsored by the Newberry Chapter of the Michigan State Employes Association, has been erected in the lobby of Ferguson Receiving Hospital at Newberry State Hospital and gifts donated for the mentally ill patients are hung on the tree.

Many patients are without relatives or friends to remember them during the holiday season. A gift contributed will go to a patient who otherwise would receive no Christmas remembrance. It is asked to aid in distributing gifts that a tag be attached stating the contents, size if applicable, article for man or woman. It is not necessary to purchase an expensive gift to brighten someone's Christmas as even a small gift will be treasured by its recipient.

Men would enjoy receiving: cigars, tobacco, tobacco pouches, wallets, after-shave powder, shaving cream, tie clasps, pajamas, underwear, sweaters, neckties, robes, scarfs, gloves, slippers, belts, caps handkerchiefs, shirts, socks.

For the women, the following are recommended: sewing, knitting, crocheting and embroidery sets, yarn, cosmetics, costume jewelry, manicuring items, cleansing tissues, bobby pins, plastic curlers, sachet bags, washable bed jacket, shawls, bed socks, handkerchiefs, lingerie, sweaters, skirts, pajamas, purses, gloves, mittens, belts, hose, aprons, house dresses, housecoats, slippers, blouses, scarfs.

Gift suggestions for either men or women: combs, hair brushes, hair oil, stationery, coin purses, pens, pencils, small clocks, newspaper and magazine subscriptions, playing cards, cigarettes, watches, nail clippers, phonograph records, framed pictures, comic books, candy of all kinds (especially home made), cigarette lighters, cigarette cases, pictures to paint by numbers, adult games, jigsaw puzzles, checker sets.

Bring gifts to the hospital mail them to "MSEA Gift Tree' Newberry State Hospital, Newberry, Mich., or if you wish to have someone pick up your gift in Newberry, call either Melvin Lehto, president, or Roland Ford, committee chairman.

Yule Lighting:

Best Displays To Win Prizes

An outdoor Christmas lighting contest for residents of the City of Escanaba is being sponsored by the Escanaba Lions Club in the interest of making the community one of the most gaily lighted cities in the area during the holidays.

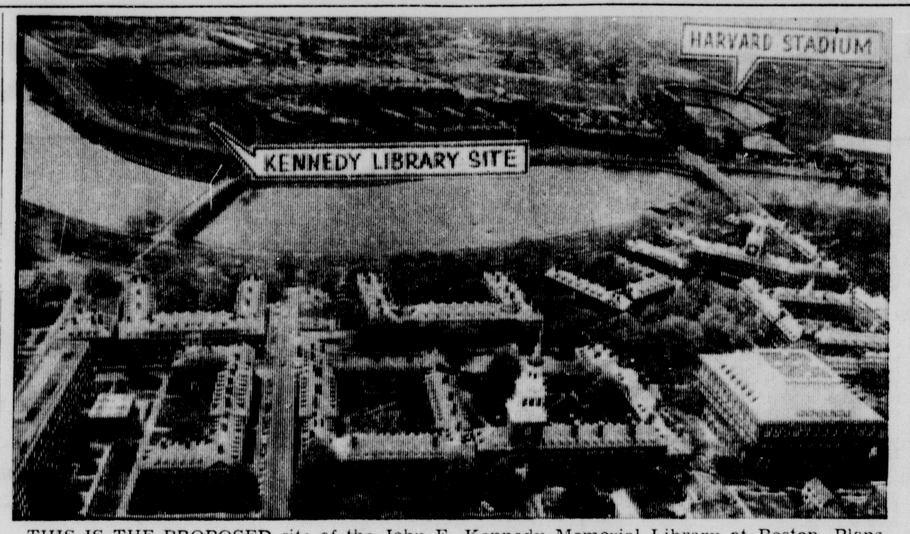
The contest is designed to encourage people to light up their homes and lawns to make them more attractive during the holiday season.

All exterior lighting will be viewed by judges who will make their rounds each evening during the period from Dec. 23 through Dec. 28. The lighting will be judged on the basis of originality, general artistic effect, holiday significance and ingenuity.

Prizes will be awarded as follows: First prize $25, second $15, third $10, plus honorable mention.

It is not necessary to make application to enter the contest and no entry blanks are required. Homes inside the city limits of Escanaba only are eligible to enter the contest. Judges of the displays will not be residents of the city. Winners will be announced on Dec. 30.

The Lions Club lighting committee is composed of Elio Argentati and Harold Olsen.



THIS IS THE PROPOSED site of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library at Boston. Plans to raise $6,000,000 entirely by public subscription were announced by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass, brothers of the slain president, and Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard University. Just to the right of the site and in the foreground are Harvard dormitories. (AP Wirephoto)

Pope Will Take Trip On Jan. 4

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will leave Rome for the Holy Land on Jan. 4 and will return Jan. 6, the Vatican Press Office announced today.

The Vatican still did not say the Pope would travel by air, which no Pope has ever done before. But obviously he could only make the 3,000-mile round trip to Palestine in three days by plane.

Pope Paul will be the first Pope to visit the Holy Land since St. Peter—the first Pope—left Palestine after the death of Christ. He will be the first Roman Catholic pontiff to leave Italy in a century and a half.

The announcement today gave no details of the Pope's itinerary. Nor did it say where he would be lodged there.

It was assumed he would spend one night in the old city of Jerusalem, which is occupied by Jordan, and one night in Nazareth, in Israel.

Japanese Girls Send Gifts To Caroline, John

TOKYO (AP)—Caroline and John F. Kennedy Jr. will receive Christmas gifts from 180 Japanese girls attending a knitting school in Wakayama.

A cream - colored cardigan jacket and cap were sent to 6-year-old Caroline. John Jr., 3, gets a brown - cream - black sweater and cap.

A letter addressed to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, and enclosed in the package, said:

"We wish our humble Christmas present will help console the hearts of your two little children."

Picketing Case Appeal Denied By High Court

MARQUETTE — Michigan's Supreme Court this week denied a union petition for leave to appeal a temporary injunction and five contempt of court citations issued last summer in Marquette County Circuit Court by Judge Ernest W. Brown of Iron Mountain.

Judge Brown had issued a temporary injunction against picketing of the Red Wing, an ore carrier owned by Upper Lakes Shipping, Ltd., Toronto, and cited five men, who violated his orders against picketing, for contempt of court.

Requesting the appeal of Judge Brown's decisions were the Great Lakes District of the Seafarers' International Union, District II of the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Assn. and the five pickets involved.

The Supreme Court's refusal to allow an appeal in the Red Wing case comes in the same week that the navigation seasons ends here. The Cliffs Victory, a Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. carrier, was scheduled to be the last to load at the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. dock on Thursday.

Tree Erected At White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CHRISTMAS TREE: a 71-foot red spruce cut from Turkey Bone Mountain W. Va., was placed in the park behind the White House Thursday to become the nation's Christmas tree.

President Johnson will press a button to light the tree the night of Dec. 22 and will deliver his Christmas message to the nation.

U.S. - JAPAN: The United States and Japan are understood to be trying to arrange a new date for a cabinet-level economic discussion in Tokyo.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and five other Cabinet members were en route to Tokyo for a meeting scheduled for Nov. 25-27 when word was flashed to their plane in midPacific that President Kennedy had been assassinated. The cabinet group immediately turned back to Washington and the conference was postponed.

PEARL HARBOR DAY: The Navy will mark the 22nd anniversary Saturday of the Japanest attack on Pearl Harbor by commissioning a new guided missile frigate named for a California ensign who died in the battle.

The 7,000-ton U.S.S. England is the second naval vessel to be named in honor of Ensign John C. England of Alhambra, Calif., who was killed aboard the battleship Oklahoma.

The first England was a World War II destroyer-escort which made history in 1944 when it sank six Japanese submarines in 12 days.

KREBIOZEN: Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., has asked for a Senate investigation of the validity of two government agencies' reports that Krebiozen is ineffective as an anti-cancer drug.

Douglas told the Senate Thursday that he had arranged for an independent study of the agencies conclusions.

Freedom Medal Awarded To 28

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson presents the presidential Medal of Freedom today to 28 Americans and foreigners—all selected by John F. Kennedy as being "dedicated to the highest standards of human achievement."

All have distinguished themselves in public affairs, education, science, health, letters and the creative and performing arts.

The medal, a five-pointed star ringed by gold eagles and hanging from a blue and white ribbon, is the highest civilian award a chief executive may bestow in peacetime.

In presenting the awards today Johnson finishes a task begun by his assassinated predecessor. It was on July 4 that Kennedy announced the list, saying:

"The varied and distinguished careers of those selected...amply demonstrate freedom's rich resource of men and women endowed with creative capacity and dedicated to the highest standards of human achievement. It is such as they, and those who march with them, whose talent enlarges the public vision of the dignity with which life can be graced and the fullness with which it can be lived."

Kennedy named 31 to receive the award — which previously has been received by only 24 persons directly from the president in the medal's 17 year history.

One of those named to receive the medal, but who will not be on hand, was Herbert H. Lehman, a New Deal architect and former U.S. senator and governor of New York.

Lehman, 85, died of a heart attack Thursday as he was preparing to leave for Washington to receive the honor.

Hanna Planning More Pellet Ore

Robert J. Linney, internationally recognized authority in the field of iron ore mining and beneficiation, has been elected vice president-operations and assistant executive vice president of The Hanna Mining Company. He will assume his new duties January 1.

This was announced in Cleveland today by W. A. Marting, Hanna Mining president, who said that Mr. Linney will assist R. W. Whitney, executive vice president, in the management of all Hanna operations.

Linney is president of Reserve Mining Co., owned jointly by Republic Steel Corporation and Armco Steel Corp. Reserve built the world's first plant for the volume production of high grade iron ore pellets from taconite, a low grade iron bearing rock of Minnesota's Mesabi iron range.

Hanna Mining has become an important producer of high grade iron ore pellets in recent years. Its Groveland plant near Iron Mountain can produce 1,500,000 tons of high grade concentrates annually, of which it can pelletize 1,250,000 tons. It operates a beneficiation and pellet plant near Sudbury, Ontario, with an annual capacity of 600,000 tons. It also has a major interest in Iron Ore Co. of Canada, which can produce 7,000,000 tons of concentrates, of which 5,500,000 tons can be pelletized.

As one of the world's leading independent iron ore companies, Hanna Mining operates propetries in Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri and Ontario and shares in the management of Iron Ore Company of Canada, which has large scale operations in Quebec and Labrador.

Hanna Mining also operates bulk carriers on the Great Lakes, in the St. Lawrence Seaway and on salt water. It manages iron ore and coal docks on the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Coast. It has the nation's only nickel mine and smelter in Oregon and currently is engaged in the exploration and development of new properties in North and South America and western Australia.

Hanna has announced that it is considering building a plant to beneficiate taconite on the west end of the Mesabi Range. In recent addresses, Marting pointed out that Minnesota has some of the best taconite reserves in the world and that Hanna's pilot plant work on taconites has been very encouraging.

He spoke of the possibility of future expansion of the Groveland plant near Iron Mountain and said the company is also considering a pellet plant at its Missouri properties.

Load At Escanaba

This year the Chicago & North Western Railway will load out about 800,000 tons of pellet ore from the Groveland plant. Next year the total is expected to reach 1,250,000 tons. The Groveland plant is located at Randville, 14 miles northeast of Iron Mountain.

Jailed Leader Of Nazi Youth Put In Hospital

BERLIN (AP) — Baldur von Schirach, former Nazi youth leader serving 20 years for war crimes, has been taken from Spandau Prison to a hospital for treatment of a circulatory condition.

An Allied spokesman said Schirach's condition was not serious but a blood clot in a leg could not be treated conveniently in prison.

Schirach, 56, is due for release in 1966.

Offer Recheck On Chest X-Ray

The Michigan Department of Health follow-up mobile x-ray unit will be in Delta County Dec. 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. The unit is equipped to take large films in addition to small films and its main function is to provide follow-up films on those having abnormal x-rays in the October, 1963 survey.

Anyone having an abnormal film in that survey can get a large x-ray Dec. 9 through the 13. Others can also be accommodated, including school children who have positive tuberculin tests, persons having had active tuberculosis in the past, nursing home occupants, and physician's referrals.

The unit will also be able to accept persons who missed out on the October set-up, said Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director, Delta-Menominee District Department of Health.

Williams Talks With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson conferred Wednesday with G. Mennen Williams, assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. Williams, a former Michigan governor, will return to Africa at the end of the week as a member of special U.S. missions to the celebrations of the independence of Zanzibar and Kenya.

Planes Will Salt Van Buren Roads

PAW PAW (AP) — Early morning motorists traveling Van Buren County roads this winter may encounter some low flying aircraft.

But they needn't panic. It's not an air raid. It's a new form of ice control.

The planes will be dumping concentrations of calcium chloride and rock salt on highways.

The new program has been adopted by the Van Buren County Road Commission. The move was approved after successful experiments conducted jointly last winter by the road commission and Mueller Crop Dusting Co.

Pond Workshop For UP Monday

A Lake and Pond Workshop is scheduled for Marquette Monday. Landowners and managers, camp and waterfront directors, county and municipal officials, local tourist and lake association representatives, realtors, soil conservation service, Michigan Department of Conservation and Extension Service personnel have been invited to meet from noon until 4 p. m. at the Northwoods Restaurant.

Dr. Clifford R. Humphreys, professor in resource development at Michigan State University, will discuss problems relevant to inland lakes and ponds. He will tell the group that, "generally these problems of the northern region are associated with underdevelopment while those of the southern part of the state are problems of overdevelopment."

In the afternoon, a detailed discussion on lake management will cover development, water safety, weed control, fish management, lake level stabilization, beach improvement, poluition control and water rights.

Pond problems to be discussed will include assistance covering design, construction, use and maintenance, weed control, beach construction, fish management and polution.

Dr. Humphreys says each community delegation will receive a package of material listing specific resources available for developing inland lakes and ponds.

Associated with the conference will be another Monday meeting to bring Upper Peninsula Agricultural Advisory Council members to the MSU Extension Center at 10:30 a. m.
